FINAL FORECAST OF THE INDIGO CROP OF BENGAL, 1905.

THE following note is published for general information.

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE INDIGO CROP OF BENGAL, 1905.

[On an average of five years ending 1903-04, the area under Indigo in the territory to which this forecast relates has represented some 38·1 per cent. of the total area under Indigo in British India.]

Explanatory.—This forecast, besides dealing with the seventeen indigo-growing districts of this province, also deals with the two indigo-growing districts of Malda and Rangpur which have recently been transferred to the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam. There being no other indigo districts in the latter Province, it has been considered unnecessary to issue a separate forecast for these two districts only from that Province.

Character of the season.—As already reported in the preliminary forecast, owing to protracted cold weather sowings were begun later than usual in Bihar; but there was good rain in April and May which did good to the crop. In June and till the middle of July the crop suffered considerably from drought. Mahai was delayed in consequence and yielded a poor outturn. From the middle of July till about the middle of September there was continuous and heavy rain in Bihar, resulting in floods which did much damage to the crop. The season on the whole was very unfavourable for the crop.

Area sown.—On account of the rapid contraction of area, due to the competition of the synthetic dye, the normal area under indigo has well nigh ceased to have any meaning. In Lower Bengal the cultivation of the crop is being gradually abandoned. There was no cultivation of the crop this year in Bankura, Midnapore, Rangpur and practically none in Cuttack. In Bihar also there is a considerable decrease in area in the districts of Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga. The total area sown this year is reported to be 170,700 acres, against 223,100 acres of last year and 249,700 acres of the preceding year.

Character of the crop.—Of the important districts, Champaran reports an outturn of 31 per cent. of the normal, Muzaffarpur 29 per cent., Saran 30 per cent., Darbhanga expects a crop 66 per cent., and Monghyr, Bhagalpur and Purnea 70 per cent. each Since the issue of the preliminary forecast prospects have improved in four districts and deteriorated in three. The average outturn of the Province, according to the district returns, comes to 47 per cent. against 56 of last year.

Outturn.—The total yield of North Bihar (including Monghyr), according to the district returns, amounts to 14,163 factory maunds, and that of Lower Bengal, including the minor districts of Bihar, to 7,085 factory maunds (a factory maund is about 75 lbs.), the total being 21,248 factory maunds.

The estimated outturn of last year, according to the official return, was 33,040 factory maunds. According to the trade return given by Messrs. Moran & Co., last year's outturn was 36,500 factory maunds.

Messrs. Moran & Co. estimate the outturn of the present year at 18,000 factory maunds for North Bihar, and at 4,000 factory maunds for Lower Bengal.

On special duty in connection with the Agricultural Department, Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; ≺, lightning; ≃, dew; ≡, fog.

The President of the Executive Committee,
C. MANGILI.

Translation of a letter, dated Milan, the 5th December 1905, received by Mr. A. Serena, Executive Commissioner, Milan International Exhibition, 1906, from the Executive Committee in Milan.

I hasten to bring to your notice that the Ministry of Finance has just communicated to us that whilst the frontier customs dues, in accordance with the tariff, will have to be paid on all eatables and drinkable exhibited, tea will be admitted to the privilege of temporary importation and exemption from customs duty, with the accustomed bond of entry.

I feel sure that you will appreciate the concession at its true value as it involves a specially favourable treatment for one of the most important products of the British Colonies. I would remind you that the Italian Government was led to do this through a desire to particularly favour the Indian exhibitors, and I venture to hope that you will be able and willing, under these circumstances, to promote and ensure the participation, in some suitable form of Indian producers.

NOTIFICATION.

No 690Mis - The 6th February 1906.—The following extracts from the Annual Administration Report of the Zoological Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1904-05, and Government letter No. 443, dated the 25th January 1906, acknowledging the receipt of the report, are published for general information.

R W. CARLYLE,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Extracts from the Annual Administration Report of the Zoological Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1904-05.

The Honorary Committee have the honour to submit their report for the year ending 31st March 1905.

* * * * * * * *

THE COMMITTEE.

1. Mr C E Buckland, C.I.E., resigned the office of President in April 1904, and was succeeded by Major A. Alcock, C.I F, F.R.S. Mr. Buckland had been connected with the Garden since its foundation in 1876, and had always taken great interest in its welfare.

THE GARDEN.

2. The most noteworthy event of the year was the acquisition of a strip of land 960 feet in length and 120 feet in breadth along the western boundary, from the Kidderpore Orphanage Estate. For this the Committee are indebted to the Government of India.

ESTABLISHMENT.

3. Rai Bahadur R. B. Sanyal, C.M.Z S., was in charge of the Garden and Managerie throughout the year.

* * * * * * * *

BUILDINGS.

4. The arrangement, originated in 1899, under which the buildings were placed in charge of the Executive Engineer of the 1st Calcutta Division, was discontinued, as being insufficiently elastic, and the Committee have now resumed entire responsibility for the construction and maintenance of all garden works.

Thanks entirely to the liberal grant, recorded in last year's report, of Rs. 1,00,000 from the Government of India, the Committee have been enabled to undertake the following permanent improvements:—

(1) Cleaning the beds of the tanks: completed.
(2) Raising and draining the low-lying deer-paddocks along the south-west boundary of the garden: not completed at the end of the year.
(3) Reconstructing the Dumraon monkey-house: nearing completion at the end of the year. In the new plan, the old Dumraon House, all the arches of which have been opened up, merely remains as one of two equal and uniform wings: the two wings are connected by a centrally placed exercising-yard of commodicus size, and are skirted, front and back, by large outdoor cages.

Upon the land recently acquired from the Orphanage Estate the following new buildings are being erected out of the same Government of India grant:—

(1) A well-raised and airy antelope house of six stalls and yards, with a large common exercise-paddock attached, the arrangement being such that the occupants of each stall can have their separate turn of the paddock
(2) An airy house, with spacious paddocks attached, for wild sheep. The house is perched on a lofty rampart, so as to protect these animals from the damp, which is so hurtful to them.
(3) An open house and paddocks for ostriches.
(4) A house for Birds of Prey. This house, which is constructed almost entirely of stout wire-netting streched over on iron framework, is 150 feet long and 25 feet high, and will undoubtedly be one of the features of the Garden.

It may be mentioned that all these additions and improvements have been completed since the end of the year under report.

The following minor repairs and improvements have been executed out of ordinary sources of income:—

(1) Renovation and draining of the "Buckland enclosure" and lining the tank with masonry.
(2) Cleaning and, where necessary, painting the "Burdwan House" for large carnivora, the Gayal and Sambur deer sheds, the "Rodent House," the "Old Hospital Shed," the "Peafowl Pavilion," and the "Reptile House."

FINANCE.

5 The financial condition of the Garden has been exceptionally good, the receipts from visitors having amounted to Rs. 24,168, which is better than the preceding year by no less than Rs. 8,211-3.

The accounts of Income and Expenditure are summarised in Appendix B.

THE PUBLIC.

6. Owing partly to the improved system of checking at the gate, and partly to better advertising, the number of visitors has greatly increased. The turnstile records show a total for the year of 346,254 persons admitted, a daily average of 949, as exhibited in Appendix C. In addition, a large number of infants under four years of age and school children attended by their teachers were admitted free. On the days of the Fancy Fair about 8,000 people, including complimentary ticket-holders, entered the Garden.

E. HAROLD BROWN,
Honorary Secretary.

A. ALCOCK,
President.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

I have the honour to submit the following report on the state of the menagerie of the Garden.

The following comparative tables show how the various collections of animals in the Garden stood during the last four years:—

YEAR.	Mammals.	Birds.	Reptiles
1901-02	490	914	240
1902-03	504	810	246
1903 04	464	842	238
1904-05	450	855	266

ACQUISITIONS.

The most noteworthy event of the past year was the acquisition of a nearly full-grown Indian Rhinoceros, from the forests of Nepal. It came as a gift from the Government of Nepal, through His Excellency the Viceroy (Lord Curzon). The task of conveying such a huge and exciteable animal from Raxaul on the Nepal frontier, where it was delivered by the Government of Nepal, to Calcutta, was by no means easy; but owing to the facilities generously afforded by the Bengal and North-Western and the East Indian Railway Companies, and to the willing help rendered by their employés, specially by Mr. Pratt (District Traffic Superintendent, Bengal and North-Western Railway), it was accomplished without any difficulty. The Superintendent of the Garden, who personally supervised all the arrangements in connection with the transport, was much indebted to Colonel Ravenshaw, British Resident in Nepal, for his courteous help.

The importation of a pair of Giraffes, purchased from Mr. Hagenbeck of Hamburg, was another important event in the history of the Garden during the past year. It is greatly to be deplored, however, that in spite of all that could be done to secure their comfort and well-being, they died within a few months after arrival.

A consignment consisting of the following animals was also received from Mr. Hagenbeck at the same time with the Giraffes:—

1 Waterbuck.
2 Llamas.
1 Puma.
2 Hairy-rumped agoutics.
2 Ring-tailed monkeys.
1 Anaconda.
2 Boa constrictors.
3 Rhinoceros iguanas.

Birds of Paradise have formed an attractive feature of the collection for many years past. With a view to maintaining this attraction, three Greater Birds of Paradise were purchased during the past year to replace those that had been lost by death or removal. Restrictions having recently been placed on their capture and exportation from New Guinea, an opportunity may not occur for some years to come for acquiring another.

Another interesting addition to the Garden was a pair of Flat-horned Antelopes (Bubalus depressicornis) of Celebes. They are always an object of curiosity to visitors owing to their striking resemblance to young buffaloes.

The collection of aquatic birds was enriched by the accession of four Wood-ducks (Asarcornis scutulata) presented by Mr. E. Stuart Baker, District Superintendent of Police, Dibrugurh, Assam.

A list of donors and their donations during the year 1904-05 is given in Appendix D.

LOSSES.

Of losses by death which occurred during the year 1904-05, a large proportion consisted, as usual, of animals that died a few days after their arrival in the Garden. The majority of them came in a debilitated condition brought on by exposure or ill-treatment previous to their acquisition by the Garden. The following deaths however require special mention,—one lioness, one silvery gibbon, one orang-outang, one hunting leopard, one Himalayan bear, one anoa, one serow, and two giraffes.

BREEDING.

The following was the breeding result of the year under report:—

1 Banting.	13 Spotted-bill ducks.
3 Sambur deer.	1 Crested pigeon.
4 Spotted deer.	1 China dove.
1 Thamin deer.	1 Indian mouse deer.
3 Rufous-necked wallabys.	2 White ibis.
2 Rhesus monkeys.	1 Emu.

1 Indian antelope.

It is hoped that with improved accommodation for the animals, the results under this head will be more satisfactory in future.

PROVISIONS.

The feeding of animals in health and disease is of necessity a most important affair in the management of a Zoological Garden But its importance apart, the subject is of great interest as a study of the habits and idiosyncrasies of animals Larger carnivorous animals are fed, as a rule, on beef, but there are lions and tigers which will touch nothing but mutton; and if attempts be made to wean them from their old habits, they either starve themselves, or become ill on beef diet being persisted in. Bears have been known to refuse every conceivable article of diet till served with cooked rice and dal, or dal and chapatti.

A python ordinarily accustomed to ducks and geese, persistently refused them after a time, and took to eating nothing but fowls.

A Sclater's monaul pheasant has been known to evince a decided partiality for a fish diet, in addition to its ordinary food.

A black lemur now living in the collection was, until lately, extremely fond of betel leaves. It contracted this habit while in the possession of its former owner.

The specific identity of trees and shrubs which yield food for the Rhinoceros in its wild state is not exactly known Be that as it may, in captivity they evince a decided partiality for jack-fruit leaves; and it is by no means easy to make daily provision for leaves of a particular kind, which necessarily implies denudation of a tree of some economic importance in Lower Bengal. In respect of its diet, the Indian Rhinoceros now living in the Garden is very singular, in that it will not touch any kind of grain, but will readily eat sutto made into a pulp with gur.

As sick-diet, live kid, rabbit, pigeon and fowl are always requisitioned, and used with marvellous good result in cases of simple ailments in carnivorous animals.

* * * * * * * *

GENERAL CONDITION OF THE ANIMALS.

Much has been done of late to bring about conditions necessary for the health and comfort of the animals. But owing to circumstances over which the management has no control, attempts at improvements have not been attended with the desired amount of success. Besides anthrax and rinderpest which now and then break out in an epidemic form, of a more or less severe type, the management has to contend with another disease of a more insidious nature. It is always in evidence in one form or another—though the inflammatory type is the most common, among animals of widely different habits. According to expert medical opinion it is a septicæmia due to the absorption of a germ found in the earth, and is fairly common in Lower Bengal, specially during the rains. Be that as it may, this unknown foe has been a scourge of the Garden ever since its formation in 1876, and has so far baffled all attempts at its extermination by disinfection. It is, however, hoped that with the progress of improvements in respect to the housing of animals, a marked diminution in the frequency and virulence of its attacks will be brought about. The "Murshidabad House" for birds, which at one time was one of the centres of infection, is an object-lesson on this subject, inasmuch as since the construction of its out-door cages, permitting birds ready access to the open air, the number of casualties has considerably diminished. The open-air enclosure for the larger carnivorous animals has also been a great success.

NOTIFICATIONS.

PUBLIC.

The 1st February 1906.

No. 266.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Controller of Printing and Stationery will take rank in Article 55 of the Warrant of Precedence for India published with the notification of the Government of India in the Home Department No. 328, dated the 10th February 1899.

The 2nd February 1906.

No. 308.—The following correspondence is hereby published for general information :—

(1) Letter dated 2nd February 1906 from the Editor of the Statesman.
(2) Home Department letter Nos. 272—281, dated 2nd February 1906, to all Local Governments.

Dated Calcutta, the 2nd February 1906.

From—S. K. RATCLIFFE, Esq., Editor, Statesman,
To—H. H. RISLEY, Esq., C.S.I., C.I.E., Secretary to the Government of India.

IN reference to the recent correspondence between the Statesman and the Government of India. By their action in publishing the correspondence in the Gazette of India the Government have removed the controversy from the sphere of private correspondence to that of public statement in the Press. Nevertheless, in view of the fact that the notification of the Government of India to the Local Administrations is based upon a misconception of the language and intention of our letter of 12th January, we think that an early and satisfactory settlement of the matter is more likely to be reached if we again address the Government of India direct.

The Government of India appear to have misapprehended our position in two important particulars, namely, the manner in which the document in question came into our possession, and the claim which in their letter to the Local Administrations they attribute to the Editor of the Statesman.

We would venture, in regard to the first of these points, to submit that an assurance of bonâ fides on the part of a newspaper of the standing of the Statesman is entitled to full acceptance. That assurance has already been given, but we take this opportunity of adding that, before publishing the document, we satisfied ourselves by inquiry that it had not been obtained by improper means.

With respect to the second question : the Government of India indicate that they attach great importance to the use in our letter of 12th January of the words "note upon the file." They infer from this that the Statesman has claimed the right to publish "notes upon files" and further to exercise unfettered discretion in determining when such publication is desirable. In the paragraph under discussion the Government of India furnish a precise definition of the term "notes upon files," from which it is clear that the significance of the term as employed by them is essentially different from that in which it was used in our letter. It seems to us impossible that any responsible journal should claim the right to publish papers "which are by nature confidential documents and can only come into possession of a newspaper by the betrayal of trust on the part of some employé of the Government," and on behalf of the Statesman we desire to say that we have never claimed and do not claim any such right.

We would state in conclusion that, while we retain our opinion that the disclosure of Lord Curzon's Note cannot justly be described as a breach of journalistic propriety, its publication might, from the point of view which the Government of India would naturally take, be regarded as an indiscretion.

Nos. 272—281, dated Calcutta, the 2nd February 1906.

From—H. H. RISLEY, Esq., C.S.I., C.I.E., Secretary to the Government of India,
To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.
" Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay.
" Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.
" Chief Secretary to the Government of the United Provinces.
" Chief Secretary to the Government of the Punjab.
" Chief Secretary to the Government of Burma.
" Chief Secretary to the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam.
" Honourable the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.
" Honourable the Chief Commissioner of the North-West Frontier Province.
" Chief Commissioner of Coorg.

IN continuation of my letter of 26th January, I am directed to enclose for [the / your] information of [the Governor in Council / His Honour the Lieutenant Governor] a copy of a letter from the Editor of the Statesman, dated 2nd February 1906.

2. In this letter the Editor gives a distinct assurance that the note published by him did not come into his possession by improper means. Mr. Ratcliffe goes on to explain that in his letter of the 12th January the expression "a note upon the file" was employed with a significance entirely different from that attached to it by the Government of India. Accordingly he disclaims any intention to assert, by implication or otherwise, the right to publish documents of that description. Finally, while demurring to the charge of having infringed journalistic propriety, he admits that the publication of Lord Curzon's Note "might, from the point of view which the Government of India would naturally take, be regarded as an indiscretion."

3. The Government of India have no hesitation in accepting the assurance now given by Mr. Ratcliffe as to the circumstances in which the note in question passed into his hands. They are equally ready to accept his disclaimer of the intention which his use of the term "a note upon the file" had led them to impute to him. The action taken by them had for its object the assertion of the confidential character of the record of those discussions which are inseparable from the efficient transaction of official business and the disclosure of which would be detrimental to the public interests. The assurances now given by the Editor of the Statesman relieve them from all apprehensions on that account, and their main object having thus been attained, they have decided to order the withdrawal of the restrictions imposed by my letter of 26th January.

Durour island—Amended position.

No 46 (second publication).—With reference to notice to Notice to Mariners No. 461, dated 25th November 1905, issued by this Office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 1384 of 1905) that the position of Durour island, north-east coast of New Guinea, has been fixed by the officers of H.I.M.S. Mowe

The latitude of the eastern point of the island was determined by meridian altitude, taken on shore, to be 1° 27′ 30″ S. Owing to cloudy weather the longitude of this point could not be obtained by astronomical observations, but was determined on the passage to Maty island, by means of bearings taken when both islands were in sight, to be in about longitude 143° 6′ 20″ E.

The position of this island on the Chart has been amended accordingly.

CHINA SEA—Gaspar strait.

Pare Joie reef—Reported position.

No. 47 (second publication)—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 323, dated 26th August 1905, issued by this Office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 1385 of 1905) that a repeated and careful search has been made for the Pare Joie reef in the position reported by the American S. S. Mississipi in May 1905, without any trace of its existence being found.

It is consequently considered that the Mississipi must have been deceived by the appearance of the water, but as a reef does doubtless exist in this vicinity, on which the ship Pare Joie remained aground for 24 hours, it is probable that the position given by that vessel is the most reliable.

Pare Joie reef has, therefore, been transferred on the Chart from the position given by the Mississipi to the situation originally assigned to it by the Pare Joie, viz., to a position from which Gaspar island summit bears S. ½ E, distant 5¼ miles. It has been marked P. D.

AFRICA, EAST COAST—PORT OF BARTHOLOMEU DIAS.

General Instructions.

No. 29 (third publication).—The following Notice to Mariners (No. 2 of 1906), issued by the Bombay Government, is republished for general information :—

The following information, dated September 1905, has been received from the Port Officer, Beira, through the Consul General for Portugal in British India :

The port is marked by beacons on land. These are six in number giving three courses by means of which the bar may be crossed and the harbour entered with absolute safety.

Bearings of the Beacons.

The bearing of the first pair of beacons Nos. 1 and 2, when in line, is S. 83° W., that of the second pair Nos. 3 and 4, S. 18° W., and of the third pair Nos. 5 and 6, is S. 10° 15′ E.

Situation, form and colour of the beacons.

Beacons Nos. 1 and 2 are on firm land covered by low mangroves, where the East margin of the bay and the port of Bartholomeu Dias properly speaking begins.

The bearing of these beacons is tangent to the southern border of a dense and tall grove of pines (movinjes) which rises on the S.-E. extremity of the Movin-jes or Maconde island.

The grove is conspicuous to any one entering the port, since it rises from the sea, as a green clump of verdure, and is seen standing out alone before sighting the margin of the bay. It is a splendid landmark.

Beacon No. 1 is a quadrilateral tower surmounted by a triangular appendix, jutting out slightly over the sides of the tower. It is 20 metres high and 2 metres broad. The tower on the seaward side is painted in three vertical stripes, the one in the centre being black and those on the sides white. The triangular appendix is white with a black circle in the centre.

Beacon No. 2 is a triangular tower also ending in a triangular appendix, it is 25 metres high and 3·50 metres broad, and is alternately opened and closed in horizontal bands of 3 metres. The part which is covered is painted black so that the impression is produced of black bands alternating with others of light blue or gray.

The triangle is painted black with a white circle in the centre.

Beacon Nos. 3 and 4 are situated within the port, on the W. shore, on an unmistakable site locally called 'Chamadouro da Pedra.' On the border of this low and slightly undulating land, which is in general of a dark green tone, owing to the mangroves that cover it, there suddenly rises, forming a point, a yellowish white patch which looks like a big rock cut vertically with the shore. In the whole port of Bartholomeu Dias this feature is unique and may be seen over the sands forming 'Macovane Point' soon after entering the first part of the channel: as marked by beacons Nos. 1 and 2.

Beacon No. 3 is in the shape of a column surmounted by a square, of which two opposite angles are fixed vertically on the prolongation of the axis of the column. It is black having in the centre another white square.

Beacon No. 4 is a tower exactly like beacon No. 2, but of smaller dimensions 18·50 mr. high and 2 mr. wide.

Beacons Nos. 5 and 6 are situated near 'Govuro Point' which is covered by a clump of tall pines, and here the commandant's house or residency stands. The house is not seen as it is surrounded by trees, but the point is clearly distinguished a little before leaving the second part of the channel, not only by the special form of the trees but also by the wooden jetty and by the flagstaff rising a few metres from it.

Beacon No. 5 is in the shape of a column, painted in three vertical bands, the centre one being black and the others white. It ends in a triangular appendix, painted white with a black circle in the centre. It is 11·75 mr. high and 0m. 80 mr. wide.

Beacon No. 6 is also a column, surmounted by a square, having arcs painted black in the angles, and two concentric circles in the centre of the figure; the outer being black and the inner one white.

The column is painted in black and white horizontal bands. It is 16 mr. high and 1 wide. The beacon is seen between two dense mangrove clumps, the one on the west growing up to the water's edge.

Currents.

The wide bay which precedes and serves as a sort of vestibule to the Port of Bhartholomeu Dias between Macovan Point on the S. and Mafomene on the N. has both at flood and ebb tide a complex system of currents which must be taken into account when entering and leaving the port.

This is due to the fact that many rivers and rivulets besides the Govuro flow into the outer basin and the influence of the mouth of the Save is strongly felt. Thus the tide has to flow simultaneously on the S. after passing the N.-W. point of the peninsula, to enter the port and to the W. and N. to enter the canals and rivers near the north and centre of the basin. As the volume of water is greater in those two directions owing to the area to be covered being larger, the current at flood tide during the passage of the part of the channel marked by the beacons 1 and 2 is felt running N.-W. At ebb tide it is the contrary, the current running towards S.-E. and being stronger than during flood tide.

In the second part of the channel (marked by the beacons 3 and 4) the chief influence owing to its proximity, is that of the mouth of the Govuro, the flood tide runs W.-S.-W. deflecting to the S. inside the port. The ebb tide runs E.-N.-E. and is stronger than the flood tide.

In the third part of the channel (marked by beacons 5 and 6) the direction and strength of the tide is the same as in the preceding part, until the N.-W. point of the peninsula is reached; from that point the ebb and flow currents run parallel to the shore.

Instructions on entering and leaving the port.

From the above notes on the currents the following simple directions are deduced :—

In the first part of the channel.

With flood tide keep the beacons well in line.

With ebb tide let beacon No. 2 open out on the N. of beacon No. 1 until the S. side of the former is tangent to the N. face of the latter. Thus is corrected any setting of the vessel to the S. which helped by the strong current at ebb tide, might have thrown it on the bank which borders the land from Macovane Point to the extreme W. of the Govuro peninsula. The highest point of this bank is naturally marked by the line determined by the 'Chamadouro da Pedra' and by a group of three big trees which rise behind it, and are easily distinguished in the low green mangrove.

The direction of this line is S. 27° W. and after passing the point the beacons may follow even with strong ebbs, until the vessel enters the second part of the channel.

In the second part of the channel.

With flood tide keep beacons 3 and 4 well in line. With ebb tide let No. 4 open a little on the W. of No. 3, to avoid the current carrying the ship toward the point of the tongue of sand which projects N.-N.-W. of the peninsula, which may generally be distinguished by the lighter colour of the water.

In the third part of the channel.

With flood tide keep beacons 5 and 6 in line.

With ebb tide let the beacon 6 open slightly to the W. of No. 5 until the point of the peninsula is passed, then follow the land and seek anchorage freely.

Floating mark.

To the W. of the third part of channel and very near it E. and W. of the small bend which forms the N.-W. corner of the right margin of the bay, there is a barrel painted red.

It marks a patch which is covered by 11½ feet of water at low water spring tides. From this mark inwards parallel to the land the port has a depth of 6 fathoms to close to the shore, the bottom being sand and mud.

This mark is also of great service when leaving the third part of the channel and entering the port.

Anchorge.

It may be said in general that ships may safely anchor in two long lines of more than a mile in extent parallel to the shore, starting in the N.-W. corner and ending in the small bay on the S. point of which beacon No. 6 is placed.

At present, the usual anchorage is near the jetty referred to, on either side of it, and here the depth is 7 to 8 fathoms, with a bottom of mud or sand.

The port is protected from all winds, though those blowing over low lands, when very strong, cause a rough sea, but as there is no space for waves to form, on the E. owing to lying so close to the shore, and on the S.-W. owing to the succession of banks which guard the port in that direction, and as it is splendid holding ground, ships run no risk of dragging their anchors or wearing their moorings.

Bearings.

The following are the bearings to enter the first channel when going into the port :—

Inhamabue Point (situated S.-E. and immediately following Macovane Point)	S. 25° W.
Macovane Point	S. 39° 30′ W.

Point E. of the Mueve island (situated E. of the high land of "Machanga" at the entrance of the "Save") N. 14 E.

The point determined by these bearings is in the extension of the line passing through beacons Nos. 1 and 2 and is almost on the E. edge of the bank at the entrance. The depth is 6 fathoms.

Lowest soundings in the channel.

The lowest soundings are to the E. of the outer bank, which runs uninterruptedly from Inhamabue Point to 1½ miles beyond Mafomene Point. Three small patches were found at low water spring tides of 13½ feet.

In the rest of the channel the depth varies from 18 to 35 feet at low water.

The General Administration Report of the Chota Nagpur Division for the period 1900-1901 to 1904-1905.

THE condition of the Chota Nagpur Division during the five years under review shows a distinct advance on the previous quinquennium. Two severe famines and the Munda disturbances seriously marred the prosperity of the preceding five years, and the Division has been fortunate in escaping troubles of a similar nature during the present quinquennium. Though in certain more remote quarters of the Division the people are poor and the margin between bare sufficiency and actual want is narrow, the fault is largely due to the improvidence of the people themselves and the fact that they are so strongly addicted to drinking. Absolutely reckless of the future, they are ever eager to borrow to satisfy the desire of the moment, regardless of the fact that they are placing themselves entirely in the hands of the mahajans who do not scruple to make full use of the hold they thus acquire over them. The recent amendments to the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Act of 1879 have done much to put an end to this state of things, but it has been recognized that the most effective remedy for the abuse is to bring the Courts nearer to the people in the outlying districts, and this has been done by the creation of new Subdivisions. In certain portions of Hazaribagh and Manbhum the labouring classes have been greatly benefited by the construction works of the Gaya-Katras Railway which has demanded a constant supply of labour. The coal and mica mines in the same districts have also given steady and continuous employment to large numbers. In Palamau the opening of the Barun-Daltonganj Railway in 1901 gave a great stimulus to trade and commerce. In Manbhum lac is abundantly cultivated and proves a useful asset in case of a partial failure of the crops. In Singhbhum the people continued to be prosperous, and it is reported that, cultivable land not being plentiful, a tendency has been observed among certain sections of the cultivating class to emigrate to the adjoining Native States where land is plentiful and easy to be acquired.

2. Emigration and Immigration.—Act VI of 1901, which consolidated and amended the law with regard to the emigration of labour to Assam, came into force during the period under review. The number of emigrants has fallen considerably as compared with the previous quinquennium, except from the district of Singhbhum. It is to be remembered, however, that the numbers for the years 1895—1900 were particularly large owing partly to the scarcity of 1897, partly to the fact that many Mundas in the Ranchi district implicated in the Birsa disturbances thought it wise to emigrate, and partly to the fact that at Purulia many emigrants not recruited in these districts were registered. Other reasons given to account for the falling off in the number of emigrants are the greater demand for labour in the mines and timber and limestone works in Gangpur and Bonai and on the construction of the Grand Chord line in Manbhum and Hazaribagh, the greater strictness as to procedure under the new Act and the absence of scarcity and distress in the Division during the last four years of the quinquennium. The increased recruitment in Singhbhum is ascribed to the fact that coolies recruited in that district are now registered there instead of at Purulia as formerly, and also to the much greater efforts to recruit labour in Singhbhum, noticeably in the last few years. The present Act has done away with so-called free emigration which was formerly in existence in the Division. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that abuses are now far less frequent than they were in the days before the passing of the Act.

3. Prices of food and labour.—Except in 1900 1901, the Division has been singularly free from scarcity arising from bad harvests. The last four years, though subject to various fluctuations, have been on the whole prosperous, and though rice has very slightly risen in price as compared with the preceding quinquennium, the price of maize has fallen considerably. Wages have everywhere tended to increase. In Palamau and Ranchi there has been a marked increase in the wages of certain classes owing to the opening of the railway in the former and extensive building operations in the latter. The price of unskilled labour has also risen considerably in the stations of Ranchi and Palamau. In the coal and mica districts and on the lines of railway construction the rate of wages continues to rule high.

4. Manufactures and Mines.—Next to agriculture, mining is by far the most important industry in the Division. In the Giridih and Gobindpur Subdivisions coal has been extensively worked for many years and the opening of the Barun-Daltonganj Railway during the quinquennium has afforded facilities which should greatly assist the development of the Daltonganj coal-field. The extension of a line of rail along the Damuda valley would throw open the resources of the large Karanpura coal-fields in the Hazaribagh district and of the iron and limestone deposits in the interior of the Division which are now inaccessible. The average output of coal and the average number of work-people employed during the quinquennium under review show a marked increase on previous years in every district where collieries are worked. In Manbhum the average yearly output was nearly three times as great as in the previous period, while the number of people employed increased by 121 per cent. The mica mines were also in a flourishing condition, the annual average output being 14,132 maunds as against 8,090 maunds in the preceding quinquennium.

5. Crime: Police and Criminal Justice.—Singhbhum bears the unenviable distinction of being the most criminal of the five districts of the Division. Manbhum takes second place, while crime in Hazaribagh is considerably less prevalent than in any other part of Chota Nagpur. As regards the gravity of the offences committed, however, Manbhum is the worst district. The sanctioned strength of the police force at the end of the year 1904 was 1,733. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that the success attained by the police in obtaining convictions in true cases is very low. In Ranchi and Manbhum the unsatisfactory results of A form cases would tend to show that the local police are deficient in the requisite legal knowledge. The percentage of persons convicted to the total number of persons tried, however, has increased in every district, except Singhbhum, as compared with the previous quinquennium. The sum of Rs. 1,77,639-7-10 was imposed as fines during the five years under review, and the balance remaining at the close of the period was Rs 8,113-7-3. It is satisfactory to observe that stress has been laid upon the necessity of adapting the fine not only to the gravity of the offence but to the circumstances of the accused. Unless careful attention is paid to this important matter, it often happens that accused are fined sums that they are totally unable to pay, with the result that they not only have to suffer the term of imprisonment imposed in default, but are subject to considerable harassment for years to come from the endeavours of the police to realise the sum still due.

6. Wards' and Attached Estates.—The number of estates under management, which was 65 in 1900, rose to 91 at the end of the period under review. The increase occurred in the Ranchi and Palamau districts owing chiefly to the exercise of his power by the Deputy Commissioner to apply to the Commissioner for sanction to bring a property under the protection of Act VI of 1876 in order to save many of the ignorant aboriginal or semi aboriginal landholders from extinction. It is satisfactory to observe that the collection of rents and cesses due to the estates in the different districts was 99 per cent. on an average during the five years under review as compared with 85·5 per cent. in the previous quinquennium.

7. Improvements and Public Works.—One of the most important works of public improvement carried out in the Division during the quinquennium was the installation of water-works in the Daltonganj Municipality in Palamau. The want of water had been very keenly felt and the permanent supply now guaranteed should prove of great benefit to the town. Considerable sums were spent on improving the roads, both district and provincial, while numerous works of public utility were carried out by private individuals. The most striking advance, however, was in the extension of railway communications. The opening of the Barun-Daltonganj line gave the Palamau district railway connection with the East Indian Railway, while the Midnapore-Bhoojoodih line has connected the district of Manbhum at Adra with Midnapore and Bankura and the East Coast Railway. Most important of all, however, is the construction of a section of the Grand Chord line from Gaya to Hariharpur which will serve both the Hazaribagh and Manbhum districts. Besides these main lines much has been done in the extension of smaller lines in connection with the opening up of the Jherria coal field. Ranchi, the head-quarters station, still remains isolated; but at the close of the quinquennium proposals were under consideration for the construction of a light railway connecting it with Purulia on the Bengal-Nagpur Railway. This railway has since been sanctioned; and the work has been begun.

8. Education.—The Lieutenant-Governor is gratified to observe that there has been a marked increase in the spread of education during the quinquennium. The number of schools has increased from 2,572 in 1900 to 3,100 in 1905, the increase being greatest in Upper and Lower Primary schools, Special schools and Girls' schools. The number of scholars has risen from 74,998 to 91,052 during the five years. It is satisfactory to note the establishment of a number of industrial schools and the opening of a weaving institution in the district of Manbhum, since it is chiefly in the direction of technical education that the aboriginal tribes of the Division must look for advancement. The proposed transfer of the Sibpur College to Ranchi should prove a great benefit to the Division.

9. Dispensaries and Hospitals.—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe the increase in the number of dispensaries which rose from 18 to 27 during the quinquennium under review. The increase was shared by all the districts, except Manbhum, where the number remained the same. The average annual number of both in-patients and out-patients has increased—the latter from 66,723 in 1895—1900 to 109,225 during the past five years. Veterinary hospitals have also been started at Ranchi, Hazaribagh and Palamau, the cost being met partly by private subscriptions. There are two leper asylums—one at Lohardaga in Ranchi, and the other at Purulia, where the average daily attendance was over 600. The latter is under the control of the German Lutheran Mission, supported mainly from funds collected at home.

The Lieutenant-Governor thanks Mr. Slacke for his most interesting report and for his able and kindly administration of the Division.

10. Some extracts from the report are published for general information.

V.—MATERIAL CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE.

20. The people of this Division were fairly prosperous during the quinquennium under review. Scarcity, owing to the failure of crops in 1899-1900, was experienced in 1900 in certain parts of the districts of Ranchi and Palamau, where relief works had to be opened, and some distress was also felt in Hazaribagh and Singhbhum, excluding Dhalbhum. The bhadoi and winter rice crops of 1900-01 were good, and so the people were thereby enabled to recover. In Manbhum the partial failure of the winter rice crop was made good by the excellent outturn of the lac crop.

21. There was no agricultural distress in any of the districts of the Division during the last four years of the quinquennium under review. In Hazaribagh the labouring and petty cultivating classes have been much benefited by the construction works of the Gaya-Katras Railway, which, together with the demand for labour of the mica and coal-mines, effectually removed any chance of distress arising from the shortage of crops.

22. The late Deputy Commissioner, Mr. French, who was in charge of the district for several years, was of the opinion, with which I agree, that except in the neighbourhood of trade centres like Hazaribagh, Chatra and Giridih, and of great industries like mica-mining at Koderma, Gawan, etc., and the coal-mines in and about Giridih, the people of the district are poor, and so far as the bulk of them is concerned, the margin between bare sufficiency and actual want is narrow.

23. The people of Ranchi would be fairly well off if they were less improvident and not so addicted to drinking. Their readiness to borrow which places them at the mercy of the mahajans, has been considerably curtailed by the recent amendments in the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Act of 1879. But the proceedings now being carried out in this district for the preparation of a survey and record-of-rights tend to show that to protect the ignorant aborigines from the power of the mahajans an extension of the subdivisional system is essential. It seems that when a debtor is willing and able to pay up and release himself, the mahajan refuses to take his money, the hope being that the man will dissipate the sum and the mahajan can thereby retain him in his clutches. Where such a refusal is made, the debtor, owing to his ignorance and the remoteness, in many instances, of the Courts, does not know what to do, and the result is as the mahajan anticipated. The fact remains that many debtors take advantage of the presence of the Assistant Settlement Officer to pay up their dues to the mahajans from whom they had borrowed.

24. The rates charged by mahajans are often very high. Thus I found in 1902-03 in an income tax objection case that a certain mahajan had lent Rs. 80 at an interest of Rs. 18-12 per cent. per month, and some others had lent about Rs. 2,000 at 8 per cent. per month, and that for a sum of Rs. 200 lent a decree was obtained for over Rs. 1,200 within the course of two years from the date the advance was made.

25. In Palamau there was no distress in any of the last four years of the quinquennium under report, but the continual succession of bad or inferior crops which has happened in this district since 1895 has operated adversely on the material condition of the raiyats. The keen interest which has been taken by the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Lyall, in promoting irrigation works and in making advances under the Land Improvement and Agriculturists' Loans Acts undoubtedly saved many parts in the district from distress in 1904-05, when the rainfall, though large in the total, was very badly distributed in point of time. In the large Government estate in Palamau the prosperity of the raiyats has been considerably improved by the measures inaugurated by Mr. Lyall, as will appear from the fact that the number of desertions that took place in 1904-05 was only 20, while in 1900-01 (the year preceding Mr. Lyall taking charge of the district) it was 556. The Barun-Daltonganj Railway was opened in the year 1901, and this has given a great stimulus to trade and commerce. Non-food-crops find a ready market, and the til crop of 1903-04 enabled the people to tide over the very low outturn of the winter rice of that year.

26. In Manbhum the development of the coal-mining industry in the subdivision of Govindpur and the opening of new lines of railway gave ample work to the people of the neighbourhood, and they would have been well off were it not for their tendency to indulge in excessive drinking which is very marked, men in a state of drunkenness being commonly seen. The bulk of the people of the district consists of agriculturists, and a partial failure of any grain crop in any year was more or less counterbalanced by the lac crop which is abundantly grown in the district. In this district the people are better off, and the unskilled working classes earn higher wages than in any other district of the Division.

27. In Singhbhum the people continued to be prosperous. Those in the western part of the district suffered a little in 1901-02 owing to failure of crops. There were also occasional shortages in other years, but they were not of any moment. Mr. Gait has reported that cultivable land was not plentiful, and that there is a tendency to emigrate to the adjoining Native States where land was abundant and could be had on easy terms.

28. This tendency is practically confined to the aboriginal races and is manifest also in Ranchi.

VI.—EMIGRATION AND IMMIGRATION.

29. Act VI of 1901 which consolidated and amended the law concerning emigration to the labour districts of Assam, came into force on the 9th of March 1901, repealing Act I of 1882 and Act I (B.C.) of 1879. The changes which it made were reviewed at length in Government Resolution No. 2153, dated the 3rd May 1901. One of the principal changes, viz., the registration of coolies recruited in the district of recruitment was not enforced as regards Palamau till July 1904.

30. Owing to the fact that during the period under review the official emigration year was changed from the calendar to the year from 1st July to 30th June, this report deals with the figures of four and-a-half years only, viz., the calendar year 1900 and 1901, the half-year from 1st January to 30th June 1902, and the emigration year (1st July to 30th June) 1902-03 and 1903-04.

31. The following table shows the number of coolies recruited by contractors and sardars during the period under review as compared with the average annual number recruited in the quinquennial period ending 31st March 1900. The figures for Ranchi and Palamau are given together, for those two districts were under one Superintendent, viz., the Deputy Commissioner of Ranchi, and coolies recruited in Palamau were registered at Ranchi :—

District.	Average number of coolies recruited during the previous quinquennium, excluding so-called free emigrants.	Number recruited in 1900.	Number recruited in 1901.	Number recruited in half-year of 1902.	Number recruited in 1902-1903.	Number recruited in 1903-1904.	Average per annum of columns 4, 5, 6 and 7.
Hazaribagh ...	3,277	1,085	902	932	1,156	935	1,121·4
Ranchi and Palamau.	6,380	6,302	2,751	1,662	1,610	1,153	2,050·3
Manbhum ...	8,615	5,747	2,059	969	910	1,050	1,425·1
Singhbhum ...	189	497	482	1,188	1,448	823	1,126·0
Total ...	18,461	13,631	6,194	4,751	5,124	3,961	5,722·8

The average for the preceding quinquennium was high, partly because of the scarcity which prevailed in 1897, partly owing to the troubles in Ranchi in 1899-1900 that attended the Birsa outbreak whereby many Mundaris thought it wise to emigrate, and partly to the fact that at Purulia many emigrants not recruited in these districts were registered.

32. But even allowing for all these causes, there has been, in my opinion, a considerable falling off during the period under review in the number of labourers recruited for Assam in this Division, the causes for which are—

(a) the greater attractions afforded locally by the mines and the timber and limestone works in the Native States of Gangpur and Bonai;
(b) the work in connection with the making of the Grand Chord line in Manbhum and Hazaribagh;
(c) the greater strictness as to procedure under the new Act; and (d) the absence, save in 1900, of scarcity to any general extent.

The increase which it will be noticed has occurred in Singhbhum is due—

(a) to the fact that now coolies recruited in that district are registered there, whereas previously they were registered at Purulia; and
(b) to the fact that during the present quinquennium much greater efforts have been made to recruit labour in Singhbhum than was the case previously.

Abuses are far less frequent than they were. Owing to this Division being bordered on the east by districts which have not been notified under section 3 of the Act, many coolies are illegally recruited in the districts of Manbhum and Hazaribagh from whence they are smuggled away and registered at places outside this Division or treated as not having been recruited under the Act. To put a stop to this, I am unable to suggest any remedy save to notify the districts in question under section 3 of the Act.

33. The following table shows the number of coolies recruited under Chapter IV, that is, by sardars, so far as figures are available during the year 1901, half-year 1902 and the years 1902-03 and 1903-04 :—

District.	1901.	Half-year of 1902.	1902-03.	1903-04.	Average per annum.	Ratio per cent. of coolies recruited under Chapter IV to total number recruited.
Hazaribagh ...	902	982	1,156	935	1,121·3	100·0
Ranchi ...	Not available.	1,535	1,429	912	1,550·4	75·6
Manbhum ...	590	330	304	548	506·3	35·5
Singhbhum ...	375	1,003	1,300	741	976·9	86·7
Total ...	1,867	3,800	4,189	3,136	3,712·0	88·6

Hitherto all recruitment in Hazaribagh has been carried on by sardars under Chapters IV and V of the Act. Contractors have very little success in this Division, save in Manbhum, and why that district is an exception I cannot yet fully explain, though I incline to think that many unlicensed recruiters are employed through the connivance of the local police.

34. The present Act has done away with so-called free emigration, which formerly existed in this Division and which was attended by many abuses. Section 90 of the Act is in force in Hazaribagh and Manbhum only.

35. There is no immigration in this Division save to the colliery tract in the north of Manbhum, but statistics regarding this are not available.

VII—PRICES OF FOOD AND LABOUR.

36. In 1900-01 the prices of food-grains ruled high throughout the greater part of the year on account of the preceding bad harvests, but from September and October, when the bhadoi crops began to be harvested and the prospects of the winter rice crop were assured, prices fell.

37. In 1901-02 the prices of common rice and maize, which are the principal food-crops in the districts of this Division, ruled high in almost all the districts on account of the bad harvests of the year.

38. During the year 1902-03 the prices of common rice, wheat, gram and maize, owing to the improved outturn of the crops, fell in all the districts in the Division.

39. In the year 1903-04 the slight rise in the price of common rice in the districts of Ranchi and Manbhum was due in the case of the former district to the large exportation of grain to the districts of Palamau and Hazaribagh, and in the latter to short crops. The prices of other food-grains, owing to good harvests, fell during the year in almost all districts in the Division.

40. During the year 1904-05 there was a slight rise in the price of common rice in Manbhum owing to the faulty distribution of the rainfall. The prices of other food-grains were nearly the same as in the previous year except gram and maize in Ranchi which slightly rose from 13 seers 8 chitaks to 12 seers 5 chitaks, respectively. The increase in the price of maize in Palamau, Manbhum and Singhbhum was due to heavy rains in July and August.

VIII.—MANUFACTURES AND MINES.

46. The chief industries of the Division are—

(1) Coal and mica mining.
(2) The timber trade and the collection of jungle products, viz., lac, catechu, sabai-grass and tassar cocoons.
(3) The manufacture of shellac.
(4) Cultivation and manufacture of tea.
(5) Manufacture of tassar cloths, coarse blankets, brass and bell-metal utensils and ornaments, soapstone plates, bowls, etc., cutlery and guns.
(6) Trade in hides and horns.
(7) Rope-making from sabai-grass.

Lac, catechu, sabai-grass and tassar cocoons abound in the jungles, and are largely exported. Hides and horns are also collected all over the Division and are exported in large numbers.

In the future as the interiors of the districts are opened out by railways this Division will be one of the greatest mining centres in India.

47. Manufactures.—Lac is produced all over the Division, but it is only in the districts of Ranchi and Manbhum that there are factories for the manufacture of shellac. No statistics have, however, been furnished in respect of the district of Ranchi. In Manbhum there were altogether 93 lac factories during 1904-05 as against 48 in 1903-04 and 52 in 1900-01. Twenty-five or more persons were employed daily in 64 out of the 93 factories, as against only 17 in the preceding year (1903-04). Of the 93 factories, the municipal town of Jhalda alone possesses 48, each giving employment to a large number of labourers. This increase in the number of factories bears testimony to the flourishing state of this industry which unfortunately is of a highly speculative nature.

48. Tea-plantations exist only in Hazaribagh and Ranchi. In Hazaribagh about ten years ago there were seven tea-gardens and in 1899-1900 the number was five, but now there is only one in existence. This garden produces only green tea, and of that but a small quantity, the output in 1904-05 being only 4,320 lbs. The disappearance of so many gardens is due to a combination of several causes, the chief being poorness of soil, want of capital and a rise in the price of labour.

In Ranchi the number of tea-gardens is 21 as in 1899-1900. The outturn of manufactured tea aggregated 321,882 lbs. in 1904-05, as against 376,199 lbs. in 1899-1900. I am afraid that when this district has direct railway communication of its own, many, if not all, of these tea-gardens will disappear, since they cannot stand any increase in the price of labour.

49. Tassar cloth is manufactured only in the district of Manbhum. During the two years 1898-99 and 1899-1900 the estimated outturn was 48,000 yards and 50,409 yards respectively. The estimated outturn during each of the four years ending the 31st March 1904 was as under, no figures having been reported by the Deputy Commissioner for the year 1904-05:—

				Yards
1900-01	...	...	...	49,344
1901-02	..	...	...	20,000
1902-03	...		...	22,205
1903-04	...	...	...	15,860

There has thus been a gradual decline in the industry owing to many of the weavers having abandoned silk tassar weaving for the more lucrative manufacture of cotton cloth.

50. Coarse cotton cloths are manufactured by native weavers all over the Division, and are much preferred by the lower classes and especially by the aborigines on account of their very superior durability to the machine-made article. In 1901-02 the District Board of Manbhum sent two batches of weavers to Serampore to learn the use of the fly-shuttle During the year 1903-04 Government made a special grant of Rs. 400 for the introduction of the fly-shuttle loom in the district. With this aid two different institutions were started, one at Pakhuria in the Gobindpur subdivision under the superintendence of the Revd Dr. Campbell, and another at Raghunathpur in the Sadar subdivision. As regards the work done at Pakhuria, Dr. Campbell says that, for want of a house to set up the looms, the teaching class there ceased during the year. He, however, hopes to construct a suitable house soon and to set up the fly-shuttle loom as well as to try the Japanese loom. There are eight fly-shuttle looms at work in the Gobindpur subdivision, and these are fully employed when there is no cultivation work to do.

The weaving school at Raghunathpur was started in August 1904, with the object of teaching pupils the art of weaving by hand and by fly-shuttle. Along with this they are also taught a smattering of Bengali reading, and writing and arithmetic. The school has two teachers and the materials for weaving are brought by the students. No income has yet been secured. The school opened with 22 pupils, and this number increased to 31 on the 31st March 1905. Three pupils have left the school after acquiring a sufficient knowledge of how to use the fly-shuttle loom, but they have not found funds for starting themselves.

51. Brass and bell-metal utensils and rough brass ornaments are manufactured in all the districts.

52. Soapstone plates and bowls, etc., are made in thanas Chandil and Manbazar in Manbhum and in pargana Dhalbhum in Singhbhum, where there are quarries of the stone.

53. Sword sticks and other articles of ironware are made in some parts of the district of Manbhum, and there are two industrial schools at Jhalda in this district where the students learn to manufacture bhojalis (daggers), locks, etc., and one of these institutions gets Rs. 8 a month from Government.

54. Mines.—This is by far the most important industry next to agriculture in this Division.

The statement in Appendix V compares the working of the different classes of mines in the Division with the previous quinquennium.

55. Coal is extensively worked in the Giridih subdivision in Hazaribagh and in the Gobindpur subdivision in Manbhum, and with the opening of the Barun-Daltonganj Railway during the quinquennium under review, the Daltonganj coal-field came to be regularly and systematically worked. If the projected line up the Damuda Valley is sanctioned, it would throw open the resources of the large Karanpura coal-fields in the district of Hazaribagh and other coal measures and iron and limestone deposits in the interior of the Division which are now inaccessible. A note on this subject was prepared by my predecessor, Mr. A. Forbes, C.S.I., and attached to the Miscellaneous Annual Report for 1900-01.

Compared with the preceding quinquennium, the average output of coal and the average number of workpeople employed during the quinquennium under review show a marked increase in all the districts where collieries are worked, mostly in Manbhum, although the industry received checks from time to time on account of the dulness of the market.

In the Manbhum coal-mines the average yearly output was nearly three times as great as in the previous period, while the number of workpeople increased by 121 per cent. The mica-mining industry is confined to the district of Hazaribagh. All the mines are situated in the northern portion of the district, most of them lying in the Koderma Government estate.

56. The mica mines in the Government and in the Encumbered estates are leased out in accordance with the Government rules on the subject. The industry increased considerably during the quinquennium under review, the total annual average output being 14,132 maunds as against 8,090 maunds in the preceding quinquennium. The opening of the Grand Chord line which passes through Koderma will lend a further impetus to this industry by affording greater facilities in the shape of transport, etc.; and in view of the further expansion of the industry in the near future, the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Radice, has submitted proposals for the creation of a new subdivision with its head-quarters at Koderma.

57. The iron-mines at Turandiha, Talsa and Kudada in Dhalbhum in Singhbhum, which belong to the Bengal Iron and Steel Company, Limited, were worked during the quinquennium under review, the total annual average output and labour force being 7,641 tons and 504, respectively, as against 5,044 tons and 400 labourers in the preceding quinquennium. No machinery was employed in these mines, the ores seldom being found at a depth of more than three or four feet.

58. The Pahardiha Gold Company which holds a prospecting license for gold at Pahardiha in the Anandpur estate in Singhbhum and Prince Bakhtiyar Shah who holds a perpetual lease of the mineral rights in the Dhalbhum estate in the same district practically did no work during the quinquennium under review. On account of the numerous statements which have been made in the past about finds of gold and of the occurrence of ancient gold workings in this Division, a geological survey of the most likely gold-bearing localities in the Division was made in 1901-02 and the following year. The results obtained make it very doubtful whether, commercially, gold-mining in these parts of Chota Nagpur would pay.

59. Applications to prospect for manganese in certain parts in the Kolhan Government estate in Singhbhum were granted towards the end of the quinquennium under review to Messrs. Hoare, Miller and Company and to Mr. Charles Aubert, the latter of whom was also granted a license to explore for minerals in the same estate. The result, with regard to Mr Aubert, in the matter of manganese has not been successful.

60. There are some soapstone quarries in Manbhum, Ranchi and in Dhalbhum in Singhbhum. No machinery is employed in working the quarries as the shafts are not very deep. No figures showing the output or the average number of workpeople employed are, however, available.

XIII.—CRIME.

87. Appendices A and B show the cognizable and non-cognizable crime, reported class by class and district by district, during the period under report as compared with the average of the previous quinquennium.

88. Hazaribagh.—Comparatively speaking, crime in this district is light. It will be seen that there has been a very marked decrease during the period under report in cases under classes III, V and VI cognizable and class VI non-cognizable as compared with the previous quinquennium. This, in my opinion, is due to the fact that locally the means available to the lower classes for subsistence were subsequent to 1900, which was a year of scarcity, better than in the preceding period. The works in connection with the Grand Chord Railway were commenced in the quinquennium under review.

89. Ranchi.—The most prominent features with regard to the criminal statistics relating to this district for the period under review are the increase which has taken place in offences under classes V and VI cognizable and the decrease in class III cognizable.

In 1900 scarcity was prevalent, and consequently cases under classes III and V cognizable were numerous.

Omitting this abnormal year, the decrease under class III and the increase under class VI cognizable is attributable in a great measure to the efforts made, specially in 1903 and 1904, to relieve the district of persons whose characters were bad.

The increase in class V cognizable is, in my opinion, chiefly due to the incentive that the survey and record-of-rights proceedings (which began in the latter half of the period under review) gave to the forcible taking of possession and crop-cutting.

90. Palamau.—In this district the year 1900 was one of scarcity, which accounts for the large number of cases under classes III and V cognizable. It will be noticed that since 1 00 there has been a marked decrease year by year in cases under class III cognizable, which I ascribe to the personal efforts of Mr. Lyall to rid the district of persons of turbulent or bad character.

The large number of cases in 1901 under class VI cognizable and the great decrease that has since occurred is due to the institution of a large number of nuisance cases in 1901.

There was a great increase in non cognizable cases in 1903 and 1904, as a very much larger use was made of Act XIII of 1859. Owing to the very great development of lac, which is grown by the lower classes, persons who had taken advances to labour refused to carry out their engagements.

91. In Manbhum, as regards cognizable crime, there has been a great increase during the period under review of offences under classes II, III and V.

The cause for this is chiefly owing to the large immigrant population in the district employed in coal-mining or on railway construction. For class II there is an additional cause, viz., the failure of the police to secure the confidence of the public.

Under cognizable crime there has been a great decrease under class I and an increase under classes V and VI. As regards class I, the decrease is due to the fact that in the year 1899 of the preceding quinquennium a very large number of prosecutions were instituted with reference to hookswinging.

Under class VI the large number of cases in 1904 was due to the heavy rains at the beginning of the monsoons, which gave rise to much reclamation of waste land, and consequently many disputes as to possession and title arose.

The increase in class VI is due to a more vigorous enforcement of the Municipal Act.

92. Singhbhum shows an increase under cognizable crime in each of the past five years as compared with the average of the preceding quinquennium.

This increase is mostly found in classes III and V. The reasons for this as given by the present Deputy Commissioner are—

(a) the large number of paddy theft cases in 1900 from fields, due to the poor harvest of 1899;

(b) the scarcity in the earlier part of 1902;

(c) better reporting of cases by the police.

It would appear, as Mr. Forbes remarked in the last quinquennial reports, that when the people once acquire the habit of stealing, as for instance in time of scarcity, they do not quickly give it up.

Under non-cognizable crime there has been a decrease in class I and an increase in class IV.

No satisfactory reason can be assigned for the decrease in class I. The increase in class IV is also not capable of being definitely explained. Possibly it may be due to people preferring to come to the Magistrate rather than to the caste panchayats.

XV.—CRIMINAL JUSTICE.

138. Hazaribagh.—The average number of Stipendiary Courts in the district of Hazaribagh remained the same (7) as in the previous quinquennium, while the number of Honorary Courts and Benches rose from 2 to $2\frac{1}{4}$. The decrease in the average number of cases disposed of by all classes of Magistrates is due to the decrease of crime in the district.

The ratio per cent. of persons convicted also shows a falling off. The worst results were shown by Honorary Magistrates in 1900 (47·4) and 1901 (44·2).

As regards the ratio per cent. of witnesses detained over two days to the total number examined, there is an improvement in the case of Stipendiary Magistrates but the reverse in the case of the Honorary Magistrates. This, taken with the facts that there was an increase in the number of Honorary Magistrates and a decrease in the number of cases disposed of by them, is unsatisfactory.

Owing to the simple nature of the cases entrusted to them, the decisions passed by Honorary Magistrates were less often reversed than those of Stipendiaries.

139. Ranchi.—As compared with the figures given for the previous quinquennium, the number of Honorary and Stipendiary Magistrates in the period under review show a decrease from 9 to 2 and from 9 to 8½ respectively.

As regards the number of cases disposed of by the two classes of Magistrates, the prominent feature is the much greater assistance rendered by the Honorary Magistrates. In the previous quinquennium Honorary Magistrates disposed of only 238 cases, whereas in the period under review they dealt with 618 cases.

The average ratio of persons convicted to the total number of persons under trial has improved.

Both classes of Magistrates and especially Honorary Magistrates have dealt more speedily with witnesses than in the previous quinquennium.

The average ratio of detention of witnesses over two days shows a better result, the Honorary Magistrates having reduced the ratio from 11·1 to 4·1, though they dealt with 1,027 witnesses as against 623 in the previous quinquennium. This is very creditable to them. The worst results (12·1) took place in 1901 in the case of Stipendiary Magistrates, though the number of cases disposed of by them in that year was by no means the highest during the quinquennium.

The figures given with regard to the number of remands in A cases indicate a marked improvement in the case of Stipendiary Magistrates, and tend to show that it is inadvisable to make over such cases to Honorary Magistrates for disposal.

140. Palamau.—There is only one Honorary Magistrate in this district, viz., the Raja of Chainpur, who did no work during the period under review. There is no court for him to sit in, and proposals are about to be submitted for increasing the Court accommodation at Daltonganj.

The number of Stipendiary Magistrates increased from 4½ to 5, and the average number of cases disposed of by them shows an increase from 879 to 912, the highest number (1,401 of cases disposed of being in 1904. The ratio of persons convicted shows a better result.

The average ratio of detention of witnesses over two days was not high, but much below that for the previous quinquennium. This is wholly due to the results of the year 1900, the Deputy Magistrates for that year not being the same as those for the preceding and succeeding years.

The results of appeals are good, though slightly inferior to what occurred in the previous quinquennium.

The ratio per cent. of A cases remanded over six times was satisfactory, being only 1·8.

141. Manbhum.—The number of Stipendiary Magistrates remained the same (9½) during the quinquennium under report, while that of the Honorary Magistrates decreased from 6½ to 4½

The number of cases disposed of by each Honorary Magistrate on the average was slightly higher than in the previous quinquennium.

The ratio of persons convicted fell from 54·4 to 52·0 during the quinquennium under report. As regards the Stipendiary Magistrates from 76·7 in 1900 it fell to 45·0 in 1901 and again to 43·2 in the next year. In 1905 it rose to 44·2, and in the next year it was over 50 per cent. These results for the four last years of the period under review are far from satisfactory, and go to show that police investigations are not thorough and that in petition cases summonses are granted without a sufficient previous enquiry being made.

As compared with the previous quinquennium, there has been an improvement, very marked in the case of Honorary Magistrates, with regard to the detention of witnesses.

The quality of the work done as shown by the results of appeals was fair.

With regard to the number of remands of A cases, there has been a slight deterioration, concerning which no remarks are needed, for such remands are often due to causes beyond a Magistrate's control.

142. Singhbhum.—The number of Stipendiary Magistrates increased from 4 to 5 during the quinquennium under report, and that of the Honorary Magistrates from $2\frac{1}{2}$ to 3 This increase was much needed. The average number of cases that had to be disposed of by the Stipendiary Magistrates fell from 276·5 to 210·2 per officer. But in spite of this decrease the ratio of witnesses detained over two days and the remands in A cases were slightly higher than in the previous quinquennium.

The quality of the work done as shown by results of appeals was slightly inferior to that of the previous quinquennium.

The Honorary Magistrates disposed of fewer cases on the average per officer than in the preceding period, but with much better results and their work was done quickly. More use is likely to be made in the future of the services of these Honorary Magistrates in Singhbhum.

XXIII.—RAILWAYS AND OTHER PUBLIC WORKS.

235. At the opening of the quinquennial period the Division was connected with the railway system of Bengal only along its south-east border, where the Bengal-Nagpur Railway passes through the Singhbhum and Manbhum districts, and by the East Indian Railway Branch line touching the edge of the Hazaribagh district at Giridih. During the period now under review further extensions in the matter of railway communications have been carried out. The Barun-Daltonganj line, which was reported to be under construction during the previous quinquennium, was opened as far as Rajhara in May 1902, giving the Daltonganj coal-fields access to the north-west, and was completed to Daltonganj in December of the same year, giving the Palamau district railway connection with the East Indian Railway. The completion of this railway has produced very beneficial results to the people of the district, and it has done away with the fears that in the event of famine, stocks of grain could not be sent into the district. It was owing to the existence of this railway that the people in 1903 were able to put down so large an area under rabi, since but for the railway, the necessary seed-supplies could not have been procured in time. Early in 1903 the Bengal-Nagpur Railway completed and opened the Midnapur-Bhoojoodih line, connecting the district of Manbhum at Adra with Midnapur and Bankura and the East Coast Railway. Of still greater importance to this Division was the sanction given in 1902 to the construction of the section of the grand chord line from Gaya to Hariharpur in Manbhum. This line will serve both the Hazaribagh and Manbhum districts. It is hoped that the line will be opened for traffic during 1906. In addition to these main lines much has been done in extending the system of minor lines opening up the Jherria coal-fields in the Manbhum district. Sanction to the construction of these lines was given in 1901, and the principal lines were completed in 1903. Of these lines, the more important are the Katrasgarh-Kanudih, the Jherria-Dhanbaid chord, and the north section of the Katras-Mulkera line constructed by the East Indian Railway; the Bhoojoodih-Bhaga, the Bhaga-Mulkera, the south section of the Mulkera-Katras, and the Bhoojoodih-Hariharpur lines were constructed by the Bengal-Nagpur Railway.

236. None of the above developments, important though they are, help to bring the head-quarters district of the Division into closer railway connection with the rest of Bengal. This subject, which has been under discussion for many years, has advanced a stage. In 1904 tenders were invited for the construction of a light railway to connect Purulia on the Bengal-Nagpur Railway with Ranchi. The terms proposed by the promoters were not such as were acceptable to Government, and the matter is now being investigated by the agency of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway.

237. A survey on a ruling grade of 1 in 100 has been carried out between Purulia and Ranchi, and traffic statistics have been collected The final results of the survey and estimates are not yet available.

238. In regard to other public works the installation of water-works in the Daltonganj Municipality in Palamau is the one of most importance. The carrying out of this work was due wholly to the energy of Mr. F. F. Lyall, the Deputy Commissioner of Palamau. The want of water was very keenly felt in that Municipality during the months of April to July 1903, when almost all the wells in the town became dry, and so the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. F. F. Lyall, entered into negotiations with the Railway authorities to see whether it would not be possible to provide the town, at a cost which could be met, with water from the Railway Company's pumping station. In November of the same year the Lieutenant-Governor visited Daltonganj, and His Honour's interest in the matter was then invoked. The scheme was eventually sanctioned by Government in April 1904, and the contract was entrusted to Messrs. Martin & Co. The total cost amounted to Rs. 15,715, of which Government contributed Rs 3,000 and the District Board Rs. 1,000, the balance being raised by subscriptions. The work was begun in September 1904, and was completed before the close of the year. The Railway Company supply water at the rate of 2 annas per 1,000 gallons, and the cost of maintaining the water-works is estimated at Rs. 2,000 per year, and it has been estimated that Rs. 1,800 will be the actual price for water payable to the Railway Company. The amount is covered by the levy of a water-rate at 5½ per cent on the annual value of holdings. Mr. Lyall reports that the scheme is most popular and is working fairly well, and that no complaint as to taxation has been received nor is any expected, as there is no doubt that good water is now more easily procurable than it was formerly. In commemoration of the aid given by the Lieutenant-Governor and of His Honour's visit to the town, the works have been named after him, "The Fraser Water-works."

XXVI.—EDUCATION.

255. There has been a marked improvement in progress during the quinquennium under review, though the results attained are far short what is requisite. Much has been done by District andSubdivisional Officers when on tour by inspecting schools, especially Lower Primary ones, to improve the standard of education and to induce people to send their children to schools. The most prominent features in the history of education in this Division during the past quinquennium have been—

(1) the opening of a College teaching up to the B.A. standard at Hazaribagh by the Dublin Mission;
(2 the creation of District Boards in all the districts except Singhbhum;
(3) the additional grants made by Government for the improvement of primary education;
(4) the increase in the number of Sub-Inspectors and inspecting pandits to cope with the increased amount of inspection work;
(5) the encouragement given to female education by the establishment of schools for educating purdanashin ladies and girls, as well as Model Primary Schools for girls and the grant of increased stipends and rewards to girls' and mixed schools;
(6) the improvement in the quality of teaching effected by the opening of Training Schools for Primary School teachers and for mistresses;
(7) the introduction of the new scheme of education on a vernacular basis;
(8) the abolition of the Middle and Primary Scholarship Examinations as public examinations;
(9) the introduction of the new rules for the management of hostels and boarding-houses; and
(10) the systematic introduction of drill in Primary Schools.

As regards items (1), (3), (4), (5) and (6), there has not yet been sufficient time to enable any opinion to be formed of the results.

256. The following table compares the number of schools of all kinds in the Division, together with the number of pupils attending them during the years 1894 95, 1899-1900 and 1904-05 :—

257. During the past quinquennium, as compared with the one preceding it, the number of secondary schools [classes (1), (2) and (3) under public institutions in the above table] has decreased from 83 to 81, but their pupils have increased from 6,711 to 7,831, or by 16·6 per cent. The decrease is due to the falling off in the number of Middle English and Middle Vernacular Schools which did not, however, affect the number of pupils. The loss in the number of Middle Schools and the gain of 3 in that of High English Schools are indicative of the growing appreciation by the people of higher English education. This view is confirmed by the fact that the number of pupils in High English Schools in the last year of the present quinquennium was more than double what it was in 1894-95, whereas the corresponding number of pupils in Middle Schools shows only an increase of 20·3 per cent.

258. Compared with the year 1899-1900, the number of Upper Primary Schools has risen from 142 to 194, i.e., by 36·6 per cent., and their pupils from 6,473 to 9,811, i.e. (by 51·5 per cent.), and the number of Lower Primary Schools has increased from 2,198 to 2,588, or by 17·7 per cent., and their pupils from 57,699 to 67,094, or by 16·2 per cent. Compared with the year 1894-95 Primary Schools and their pupils have risen from 2,187 and 60,071 to 2,78: and 76,905, or by 72·2 and 28·02 per cent., respectively. Notwithstanding th large increase in the number of schools and scholars during the last te years, there is still ample room for further increase for only 23·09 per cent. o the boys of school-going age, assuming the latter to be 15 per cent. of the tota male population who really attend school.

259. The rise in the number of special schools from 17 in 1899-1900 t 36 in 1904-05 is due to the opening of seven Guru-training Schools, th establishment of a Training School for mistresses in Pelamau and the increas in the number of Industrial Schools and Tôls in the Division. Their pupils hav also risen from 551 to 961, or by 74·4 per cent., as compared with 1894-95 There has been a loss of eleven schools, but an increase in the number of pupil from 396 to 961. The loss in the number of special schools was mainly due t the closing of several Guru-training classes attached to Middle Schools.

260. Compared with the preceding quinquennium female education ha made decided progress. During 1899-1900 female education appeared to hav received a check, inasmuch as the number of girls' schools fell off from 16 to 132, or by 17·5 per cent., and their pupils from 3,813 to 3,294, or by 13· per cent. During the quinquennium under review the loss has been more tha compensated both in the number of schools and in that of the pupils, th former showing an increase of 51·5 per cent. and the latter an increase c 63·6 per cent. Compared with 1894-95, the number of schools has increase from 160 to 201, or by 25·6 per cent., and their pupils from 3,819 to 5,355, o by 40·4 per cent. According to the last census the total number of females i the Division was 2,491,163. Out of this number, 15 per cent., or 373,674, wer of school-going age, but only 9,339, or 2·5 per cent. were actually at schoo It will thus appear that, though there has been a great rise in the number o schools and pupils, much yet remains to be achieved in this direction.

261. The number of private institutions fell off from 121 to 82, or b 32·2 per cent., and their pupils from 1,898 to 1,767, or by 6·9 per cent Compared with 1894-95, there has been a loss of 32 schools and a gain of 66 pupils. The loss in the number of private institutions is a matter of satisfac tion, for many of them adopted the departmental standards of study withi the period under review, and have so ceased to be "private institutions."

262. The following statement compares the creed of the pupils in th various institutions in the Division during the years 1894-95, 1899-1900 an 1904-05:—

Creed and caste.	Number of scholars in—			Percentage of increase or decrease.
	1894-95.	1899-1900.	1904-05.	1899-1900 as compared with 1894-95.	1904-05 as compared wit 1899-1900.

Hindus	46,094	51,316	62,272	+11·3	+21·3
Muhammadans	4,433	4,817	5,714	+ 8·6	+18·6

Total ...	70,938	77,896	92,819	.....	.....

263. Muhammadan education in the Division shows steady progress, bu the total number of scholars in 1904-1905 represents only 13·5 per cent. of th Mussalmans of school-going age. The majority of the Native Christian are aborigines, and therefore to form any idea of the progress of educatio amongst the aboriginal tribes it is necessary to regard both Christians and non Christians together. The increase among the pupils of the Native Christia community has been very great, being in 1904-1905 slightly more than doubl what it was ten years ago, whereas in the case of non-Christians it is almos stationary.

264. In Singhbhum the erection of a hostel for 24 Ho boys of the Chaibassa Zilla School was sanctioned by Government during the last year of the quinquennium.

265. The statement in Appendix XXVI compares the number of each class of institution, the number of pupils on the rolls and the expenditure incurred from different sources during the years 1894-1895, 1899-1900 and 1904-1905.

266. The total expenditure on secondary schools from public sources was Rs. 31,685 in 1894-1895, Rs. 35,210 in 1899-1900 and Rs. 37,298 in 1904-1905. This expenditure increases at a lower percentage than the number of pupils.

267. In primary schools the total expenditure from public funds during the last two quinquenniums rose from Rs. 54,124 in 1894-1895 to Rs. 65,420 and to Rs. 88,073, i.e., by 20·8 and 3·6 per cent., respectively, in 1899-1900 and 1904-1905. The annual cost for each school rose from Rs. 24-7 in 1894-1895 to Rs. 27-9 and Rs. 31-6 in 1899-1900 and 1904-1905, respectively. Rs. 2-8 was thus the approximate monthly expenditure on each primary school from public funds. This is much too low and requires to be considerably increased to secure a supply of even moderately efficient teachers. The people in the Division are too poor and ignorant to pay properly for the education of their children, and unless a greater contribution from public funds be forthcoming the requisite progress in primary education will not be possible.

268. The total expenditure from public funds on female education rose from Rs. 6,255 and Rs. 6,447 in 1894-1895 and 1899-1900 to Rs. 11,135 in 1904-1905. The annual expenditure on each school from public funds was Rs. 39, Rs. 48-8 and Rs 54-4 in those years, so that the teachers' emoluments fell short of Rs. 4-8 a month. Notwithstanding the increased expenditure from public sources, the amount contributed must be considered very inadequate, and it is impossible to get competent men on such pay. The need for increased State aid is felt by all classes of primary schools, and by none more than by schools for girls, towards which the great majority of the people are indifferent.

269. The expenditure on special schools from public funds rose from Rs. 8,227 and Rs. 10,154 in 1894-1895 and 1899-1900 to Rs. 37,387 in 1904-1905. This great increase of expenditure in 1904-1905 was mainly due to the transfer of the Hazaribagh Reformatory School to the control of the Education Department, and to the raising of the status of the Ranchi Industrial School to the Sub-Overseer standard. The establishment of a number of industrial schools which generally teach carpenters' and blacksmiths' works, and the opening of a weaving institution in the district of Manbhum, show the increased interest taken both by the Government and the people in this direction. It is in the direction of technical instruction that the aboriginal tribes of this Division must look for advancement. In literary work their capabilities are far inferior to those of the Hindus, but with a proper training they will make efficient mechanics. The proposal to transfer the Sibpur College to Ranchi will, if carried out, be a great benefit to many of the aborigines.

270. During the last quinquennium the total expenditure (indirect) on education, including building, furniture, cost of inspection, scholarship and other miscellaneous charges was Rs. 1,67,952, of which Rs. 96,899, or 57·7 per cent., was contributed from public funds. The cost of inspection from public sources rose from Rs. 40,256 in 1894-1895 to Rs. 50,550, or by 25·5 per cent., in 1899-1900 and to Rs. 56,415, or by 11·5 per cent., in 1904-1905. The increase was due to the appointment of additional Sub-Inspectors and Inspecting Pandits necessitated by the increase in the work which devolved upon the subordinate Inspecting agency. Since 1894-1895 the expenditure from public funds on buildings and furniture rose from Rs. 5,371 to Rs. 25,451; but even now two-thirds of primary schools have no houses of their own, and lower primary schools as a rule are greatly in need of proper furniture. These wants cannot in the majority of cases be supplied by the people themselves, even in part, owing to their poverty. The houses used for secondary schools are generally ill-ventilated, ill-lighted and destitute of sufficient accommodation for the classes.

271. The following statement shows the result of the Entrance examination during the past six years :—

Year.	Number passed.	Percentage of success.
1899-1900	70	70·7
1900-1901	57	67 9
1901-1902	74	68 5
1902-1903	56	64·3
1903-1904	52	48·6
1904-1905	46	45 1

No explanation for the continual decrease can be offered, save that the standard of the examination must have been heightened, and that in some schools, notably the unaided ones, a proper selection of the candidates to be sent up is not made. Judging by the results, the best school of all is the Giridih High English Aided School.

XXVII.—DISPENSARIES AND HOSPITALS.

272. The statement in Appendix XXVII shows the working of the dispensaries in this Division during the quinquennium under review, and I am very glad to be able to say that there has been a marked progress.

273. Compared with the two preceding quinquenniums, the total number of dispensaries rose from 16 in 1890—1894 and 18 in 1895—1899 to 27 during the quinquennium under review. This increase has been shared by all the districts, except Manbhum, where the total number of dispensaries remained the same, viz., eight. The increases in Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau are due to the starting of new dispensaries on the introduction of the Local Self-Government Act in those districts. A new dispensary was established in the Kolhan Government estate in Singhbhum and is maintained from the Government Estates Management grant. In Manbhum the resources at the disposal of the District Board did not admit of any further increase in the number of dispensaries

274. Turning to the sources of income for the maintenance of these institutions, it is satisfactory to note that subscriptions from Municipal funds rose from Rs. 8,121 and Rs. 8,267 in 1890—1894 and 1895—1899 to Rs. 12,918, while private subscriptions increased from Rs. 8,000 in 1890—1894 and Rs. 14,981 in 1895—1899 to Rs. 19,324. This large increase from the latter source is mainly due to the introduction of the new rules for the formation of a separate Managing Committee for each such institution with a separate fund of its own

275. The average annual expenditure rose from Rs.17,178 in 1890—1894 and Rs 25,801 in 1895—1899 to Rs. 46,930 during the period under review. This increase is due in part to certain improvements effected in the dispensaries at the head-quarters stations of the districts of Hazaribagh, Ranchi, Palamau and Manbhum. The dispensary at Ranchi was formerly under the charge of an Assistant Surgeon who was, however, not a Government servant, having some years ago been appointed by the local Municipality. The dispensaries at the head-quarters of the Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Purulia districts were during the quinquennium placed under the charge of a Government Assistant Surgeon, and the increased expenditure on this account was mainly met from the district and local Municipal funds. The dispensary building at Jhalda in Manbhum was newly constructed, while additional wards were made to the Hazaribagh, Giridih, Ranchi, Palamau and Purulia dispensaries ; the most notable of these being the Victoria Memorial ward and the Thakurdas wards attached to the Ranchi dispensary and hospital. For the former subscriptions were raised amounting to Rs. 12,000 ; and for the latter a sum of Rs. 10,000 was given by a public-spirited gentleman of that name.

276. Looking to the average annual total number of persons treated, it will be observed that in-patients increased from 1,320 in 1890—1894 and 1,732 in 1895—1899 to 2,083 during the quinquennium under review.

This increase has been shared by all the districts in the Division except Manbhum, where the average annual number of such patients fell off from 723 in 1890-1894 and 716 in 1895—1899 to 630 during the quinquennium under review. This decrease is mainly due to—(a) low attendance at the Gobindpur dispensary, and (b) the abolition of the indoor ward in the Pandra dispensary. By the construction of the Jheria Railway line, the Grand Trunk Road which passes through Gobindpur has lost much of its importance as a trade route, and this accounts for the low attendance at the dispensary there.

277. The average annual total number of outdoor patients increased from 44,637 in 1890—1894 and 66,723 in 1895—1899 to 109,225 during the quenquennium under review. The result has thus on the whole been satisfactory, and is due to various improvements effected during the period in several of these institutions and to the increase in the number.

278. Besides the institutions above referred to, there are several private dispensaries and hospitals maintained by the various Missions in the Division and by the Railway and the Colliery Companies. Of these, the one which does the most public good is that at Chitterpur, in Hazaribagh, under the Dublin Mission. One of the medical members on the staff of that Mission is employed from time to time in making lengthy tours in the interior with a view to bringing medical aid to the villagers at their own houses.

279. With the introduction of the Local Self-Government Act into the districts of the Division (except Singhbhum as noticed above), Veterinary hospitals have been started at Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau. The cost is met partly by private subscriptions. In Manbhum a scholarship of Rs. 10 a month was sanctioned during the past year by the District Board to a native student of the district, tenable at the Veterinary school at Belgachia, on the condition that he would on passing serve the Board for at least three years. The student to whom this was awarded proved a failure and was removed by the Superintendent of the institution after a few months.

280. There are two leper asylums—one at Lohardaga in Ranchi and the other at Purulia in Manbhum. That at Lohardaga is a small institution supported by the German Mission. In the asylum at Purulia the daily average attendance has been more than 600 lepers and the average annual expenditure per head Rs. 57. This institution is under the control of the Revd. Dr. Hahn of the German Lutheran Mission and is supported mainly from funds collected at home. It is utilised for the reception of lepers for whose detention orders have been passed under the Act, and consequently aid has been furnished by Government for the erection of suitable buildings and a grant of Rs. 3,000 for the maintenance of 50 lepers for one year has been made. For various reasons, which need not be repeated here, I recommended in January last that this institution should be given a grant of Rs. 12,000 yearly for the maintenance of lepers.

281. In Hazaribagh the Lady Dufferin Fund Zenana Hospital which was opened towards the end of 1894 was brought into working order during 1895, and a similar hospital at Ranchi was opened on the 24th May 1897. Both these hospitals are in charge of qualified Lady Doctors. The following figures compare the total number of patients treated at Hazaribagh in 1904 with those in 1899:—

	1899.		1904.
	In-patients.	Out-patients.	In patients.	Out-patients.
Hazaribagh ...	10	2,301	1	3,336

Figures cannot be given for the Ranchi hospital, because from the 1st May 1904 the management was amalgamated with that of the General hospital and separate figures have not since been kept. In Ranchi the Lady Doctor assists in the Charitable hospital in the examination of female patients. I am afraid that neither of these institutions will find favour with pardanashin ladies. Apart from attending on patients, both of these Lady Doctors were engaged in training a number of local dhais who receive a monthly stipend during the period they are under training. Much, however, still remains to be done towards opening new dispensaries, improving accommodation in existing ones, providing sufficient and suitable furniture, improving the sanitary arrangements in the existing dispensaries, in securing greater privacy in the treatment of female patients and in providing a number of other emergencies. These, however, can only be met as funds are made available for the purpose.

XXXVI.—RELATIONS BETWEEN LANDLORDS AND TENANTS.

330. In Hazaribagh no zamindar by his conduct or acts gave rise to any friction between himself and his tenants, and in many parts the raiyats have great respect for their zamindars, and consider themselves bound to render them all sorts of help when so required.

That the zamindars do not attempt to curtail the rights of the raiyats is all that can be said in their favour. The district is one which essentially depends on irrigation as a means for warding off scarcity. But the zamindars do nothing of any moment to improve their estates by increasing the facilities for irrigation, nor are the landlords considerate to their tenants when the harvests are bad.

331. In Ranchi there has been no improvement in the very strained relations that have for so many years existed between the landlords and their tenants.

The survey and record-of-rights proceedings which are now being carried out for the whole district will provide a basis for ensuring that the aborigines are not oppressed, but no effective maintenance by the raiyats of the rights recorded in the proceedings as theirs can be hoped for, unless the number of subdivision in the district is much increased. At present in many parts owing to the remoteness of the Courts of Justice and the ignorance of the people there is an absence of justice.

332. For Palamau Mr. Lyall reports that—

"As a whole the relation between the tenants and zamindars are excellent; and even when strained they do not result in open rupture. If a tenant is oppressed or rack-rented, he simply moves on to a zamindar who has need of him and of these there are scores."

The fact that the competition at present is for raiyats and not for land affords a great security to the raiyats.

The relations between the zamindar of Uttari and his khorposhdars are strained. In the north the numerous mukarridars of the Belonja estate are very recusant as regards the payment of their rents. In the south in the Chechari estate the relations between the proprietor and his numerous aboriginal tenants are unsatisfactory. The latter have refused to render the zamindar any predial services, and the dispute can only be settled by survey and record-of-rights which cannot, however, be carried out for some time owing to the lack of the necessary staff.

333. Regarding Manbhum, the Deputy Commissioner observes that—

"On the whole the relationship between the landlords and tenants is so far satisfactory that there has not been any serious breach between them, but this state of things is more due to the natural regard of the general tenantry for their Rajas, as they locally call the zamindars, than for any act of improvement or public benefit which the latter have done."

334. In Singhbhum the relations between the zamindars, of whom there are only six of any consequence, and their tenants was fairly satisfactory until towards the end of the quinquennium, when facts occurred which led me to think that grave difficulties may arise in the estates of Porahat and Dhalbhum. In Porahat the Raja, to whom the property was restored by Government only a few years ago, has extremely inflated ideas of his own powers, and his views, especially with regard to his rights over the jungles, affecting as they do the feelings of the aborigines who people his estate, will, unless definitely settled, create a serious disturbance. The matter is about to be brought to the notice of the Board of Revenue.

The Dhalbhum proprietor owing to his debts has leased out his entire estate to a European whose main hope of profit, looking at the terms of the lease, lies in the hope of exploiting the tenantry. The matter has been reported to the Board of Revenue.

In the Bandgaon estate to the north of the estate the relations between the landlord and his Munda tenants are not satisfactory, and Mr. Taylor's recent settlement has not resulted in improving this state of affairs. One of the grievances relates to the rights in the forests, and the subject will be dealt with by me in the reference I am about to make to the Board of Revenue concerning Porahat.

335. Throughout the Division the relations between landlords and tenants would be much worse but for the existence of the Encumbered Estates Act, VI of 1876, which to a very great extent preserves the tenantry from falling into the hands of alien landlords, who have no respect for local customs or of grasping mahajans, and also brings under the direct control of Government a very large proportion of the tenantry of the Division.

336. The area of the five districts comprising this Division is 27,101 square miles, and in the last year of the quinquennium 9,564 square miles of country were being managed under the provisions of the Encumbered Estates Act.

In 1904-05 nearly 13,000 square miles of this Division were under direct management by Government either as Encumbered or Wards or Government Estates.

FINAL FORECAST ON THE SUGARCANE CROP OF BENGAL, 1905.

THE following note is published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 2nd February 1906.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE SUGARCANE CROP OF BENGAL, 1905.

[On an average of the five years ending 1903-04, the area under sugarcane crop in the territory to which this forecast relates has represented some 20·0 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane crop in British India.]

Explanatory.—The present forecast relates to 33 districts, including Sambalpur and excluding the 14 districts recently transferred to the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

2. Character of the season.—The rainfall in the Patna Division, which shows the largest area under sugarcane, was less than two inches in June against a normal of from 6 to 8 inches. The Chota Nagpur and Burdwan Divisions also suffered from drought in that month In Bihar the monsoon set in towards the middle of July, but from that time to the end of September it remained strong, giving heavy and continuous rain and causing floods in many districts; but this did not materially affect the sugarcane crop which is grown on high land. The rainfall in October was generally light all over the Province, and there has been practically no rain since. In places the cane has been damaged by pests and disease, but on the whole the season has not been unfavourable to the crop.

3. Area planted.—The normal area under sugarcane in this Province as now constituted is estimated as 461,400 acres, and the actual area planted this year is 446,900 acres against 449,400 acres of last year.

4. Outturn.—In six districts, the outturn is estimated to be normal or over. Thirteen districts report between 90 to 99 per cent., ten districts between 80 to 89 per cent., and only four districts report under 80 per cent. Since the submission of the preliminary forecast, the prospects of the crop have improved in eight districts and deteriorated also in eight districts. Taking the Provincial outturn at 92 per cent., the probable gross outturn of cane gur or raw sugar at 22 cwts. per acre comes to 9,045,300 cwts., against 8,898,100 cwts. of last year.

5. Other sources of gur.—The total quantity of gur obtained from the juice of the date-palm is reported to be approximately 1,556,764 cwts. and that from the palmyra palm only 6,083 cwts. The chief centre of the date-palm gur is Jessore, but a good deal is also made in Khulna, Nadia, the 24-Parganas and Hooghly.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

DECREE.

BY HIS HIGHNESS SEYYID ALI BIN HAMOUD, SULTAN OF ZANZIBAR.

RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION.

PART I.

1. This Decree shall be known as the "Immigration Restriction Decree, 1905."

2. This Decree shall not apply to—

(a) Any person possessed of a certificate in the form set out in Schedule A of this Decree and signed by the First Minister of the Zanzibar Government or his deputy or other officer having charge of the administration of this Decree

(b) The officers and crew of any vessel of His Britannic Majesty's Fleet or of the Fleet of any other power

(c) Any person duly accredited to Zanzibar by or under the authority of the Imperial or any other Government

(d) Any person, the subject of a Foreign Power having Treaty rights in Zanzibar, who is not a prohibited immigrant under Clause 3 of this Decree and who can produce a guarantee in the form set out in Schedule B of this Decree signed by the local Consular representative of such Power.

(e) The wife and any child, appearing to the officer having charge of the administration of this Decree to be under the age of 16 years, of a person not being a prohibited immigrant, provided that they are not themselves prohibited immigrants within the meaning of sub-sections (b), (c), (d), (e) or (f) of section 3 of this Decree

(f) Natives of Persia, Arabia (exclusive of the Levant), of the British, Italian, German and Portuguese Protectorates on the East Coast of Africa and of the Islands adjacent thereto, including Madagascar, who are not prohibited immigrants under sub-sections (b), (c), (d), (e) or (f) of Section 3 of this Decree.

3. The immigration into the Islands of Zanzibar and Pemba of any person being or appearing to be of any of the classes defined by the following sub-sections (hereinafter called "prohibited immigrant") is prohibited, namely:—

(d) Any person without visible means of support or any person who is likely to become a pauper or a public charge.

(b) Any idiot or insane person.

(c) Any person suffering from a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease.

(d) Any person who, not having received a free pardon, has been convicted in any country of murder or any crime for which a sentence of imprisonment has been passed for any term, and who, by reason of the circumstances connected therewith, is deemed to be an undesirable immigrant; but this provision shall not apply to crimes of a political character not involving moral turpitude.

(e) Any prostitute, and any person living on or receiving, or who may have lived on or received, any part of the proceeds of the prostitution of others.

(f) Any person deemed by the First Minister to be an undesirable immigrant in consequence of information or advice received from any Secretary of State or Colonial Minister, or through diplomatic channels or any Minister, of a foreign country, or from any other trusted source.

PART II.

4. Any person who desires to land at Zanzibar shall, before being allowed to do so, appear before an officer appointed for that purpose, who shall, after such examination as he may consider necessary, inform such person as well as the master of the ship which has conveyed him to Zanzibar, whether he is a prohibited immigrant within the meaning of the Decree.

5. If such person prove on examination to be a fit and proper person to be received as an immigrant into Zanzibar, the Officer shall furnish him with a certificate in form set out in Schedule A and, if not, shall specify the conditions, if any, on which he can be allowed to land.

6. Any police officer or other officer appointed under this Decree may, subject to the exceptions hereinafter contained, prevent any prohibited immigrant from entering the Islands of Zanzibar or Pemba.

7. Any prohibited immigrant making his way into or being found within the said Islands in disregard of the provisions of this Decree shall be deemed to have contravened this Decree. Any person convicted under this section may, in addition to liability to removal or otherwise, be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding six months; provided that such imprisonment shall cease if and when arrangements are made for the deportation of the offender from the said Islands.

8. No person who comes within the definition of a prohibited immigrant shall be released from the operation of this Decree, or allowed to be or remain in the said Islands, merely because he has not been notified not to land, or because he may have been allowed to land through oversight or through want of knowledge that he was a prohibited immigrant. Proof may be adduced within twelve months after any person has entered the said Islands that he was at the time of his entry one of any of the classes whose entry is prohibited, and such person shall be liable to be then dealt with as a prohibited immigrant.

9. If there shall be reasonable cause to suspect that any person has contravened this Decree, and if, in order to prevent justice from being defeated, it is necessary to arrest such person immediately, it shall be lawful for the Officer or police officer to arrest such person forthwith without having a warrant for that purpose, and he shall be required to bring such person before the Court by which he is justiciable forthwith, or, should the ship from which such person landed be on the point of departure, then such person may be handed over to the custody of the master of the ship, who shall be obliged to receive and keep him on board.

10. Any person appearing to be a prohibited immigrant within the meaning of section 3 and not coming within the meaning of sub-sections (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of the said section 3 may be allowed to enter the said Islands upon the following conditions:—

(a) He shall before landing himself deposit with the Officer (1) if a native of Asia the sum of fifty rupees, (2) any other person the sum of seven hundred and fifty rupees.

(b) If such person shall within one week after entering the said Islands obtained from the First Minister a certificate that he does not come within the prohibition of this Decree the deposit shall be returned.

(c) If such person shall fail to obtain such certificate within one week, the deposit may be forfeited and he may be treated as a prohibited immigrant.

In the case of any person entering the said Islands under this section no liability shall attach to the vessel or to the owners of the vessel in which he may have arrived at any port of the said Islands.

11. The First Minister may authorize the Officer to make a contract with the master, owners or agent of any vessel for the conveyance of any prohibited immigrant found in the said Islands to a port in or near to such immigrant's country of birth, and such immigrant with his personal effects may be placed by a police officer on board such vessel.

12. Any person who shall be instrumental in bringing into the said Islands any idiot or insane person without a written or printed authority signed by the First Minister shall be deemed to have contravened this Decree and, in addition to any other penalty, shall be liable for the cost of the maintenance of such idiot or insane person whilst in the said Islands.

13. Any officer for the purposes of this Decree shall be empowered to board as often as may be necessary all ships entering inward at any port of the said Islands in the performance of his duties under this Decree.

14. The master of a ship arriving at any port of the said Islands shall, upon being thereto requested by the Officer at the port, furnish to him a list in duplicate, signed by himself, of all passengers and other persons then on Board not forming a portion of the regular crew of the vessel.

15 A master shall also, if required thereto prior to his departure from the port, produce his articles and muster his crew, and if it be found that any person named on the articles who in the opinion of the officer would be a prohibited immigrant is not then present, such person shall be deemed to have entered the said Islands contrary to this Decree, but the master and agent of the ship, provided that they have made proper provision for police protection, shall not be responsible for any contravention of the provisions of this section.

16. Whenever it shall be deemed necessary for the effective carrying out of this Decree to regulate intercourse from the shore with any vessel in the port having on board any prohibited immigrant, the officer may take such steps with the approval of the First Minister as may appear proper in that behalf.

17 The master and owner of any ship from which any prohibited immigrant may be landed or may land shall be liable jointly and severally to a maximum penalty of one hundred pounds sterling in respect of each prohibited immigrant landed or who may land, and the vessel may be refused a clearance outward until any penalty incurred has been paid and until provision has been made by the master to the satisfaction of the Officer for the conveyance out of the said Islands of each prohibited immigrant who may have been so landed, and the vessel may be made executable by a decree of the Court by which the owner is justiciable in satisfaction of any penalty imposed under this section. The word "clearance" as used in this Decree includes all the documents ordinarily issued by the Collector of Customs to a ship about to leave port including the document known as the Bill of Health.

PART III.

18. Any person being a prohibited immigrant within the meaning of this Decree may apply to the Officer for a pass to enter the said Islands for a temporary visit or for the purpose of embarking at the port for some other country. Such passes shall be known as Visiting Passes and Embarking Passes, respectively, and shall be in the forms prescribed by the Regulations made under this Decree. The words "the port" mean any port in the Islands of Zanzibar and Pemba.

19. The applicant shall attend before the Officer and shall answer all such questions as the Officer may put in order to satisfy himself that the pass ought to be granted and shall deposit with him the appointed sum of money, that is to say:—For a Visiting Pass the sum of one hundred and fifty Rupees together with an additional sum of one hundred and fifty Rupees where the pass includes the wife and children of the applicant.

For an Embarkation Pass the sum of one hundred and fifty Rupees for each adult and seventy-five Rupees for each child.

The word "child" as used in this and succeeding Sections means a person appearing to the Officer to be under the age of sixteen years.

20. Except in the case of a person accompanied by his wife and children a separate pass shall be required for each person seeking to enter the said Islands for the purpose of a visit or for embarking.

21. No such person shall be entitled as of right to obtain a Visiting Pass or an Embarkation Pass, and the Officer appointed to issue such passes shall have the discretion to grant or refuse any such pass, subject however to any direction which may be given him by the Officer or by the First Minister.

22. A Visiting Pass shall be a sufficient authority for the person or persons named therein to enter the said Islands and to remain there during the period stated in the pass. Such period shall not exceed twenty-one days, but any Officer appointed under the Decree may, for sufficient reason appearing, extend the period from time to time by an endorsement on the pass. No extension shall be made for more than fourteen days at a time, and no such pass may be extended beyond six weeks from the date of the pass except with the consent of the First Minister.

23. The money deposited for a Visiting or Embarkation Pass shall be returned to the depositor upon the pass-holder quitting the said Islands within the time named in the pass or any extension thereof, or may, in the event of the pass-holder failing to quit the said Islands within the specified time, be applied by the Officer, in so far as the sum deposited shall suffice therefor, in obtaining a passage for the person or persons named to their destination. Any balance of the money deposited shall be returned to the depositor as hereinbefore provided, or may, in the discretion of the Officer, be expended in any other necessary or proper manner by the desire of the depositor.

24. Any person being a prohibited immigrant within the meaning of the Decree who shall enter the said Islands in pursuance of a Visiting Pass and who shall remain therein beyond the time allowed by such pass or by a lawful endorsement thereon, or who may misuse the pass or allow any fraudulent use to be made of it, shall be deemed to have contravened this Decree and shall, upon conviction, suffer forfeiture of the amount deposited by him and render himself liable to the punishment prescribed by Section 7 of the Decree.

PART IV.

25. Any person appearing to an Officer under this Decree to be over the age of sixteen years shall be regarded as an adult for the purposes of this Decree.

26. The First Minister may appoint Officers for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Decree and may define the duties of such Officers, and where in this Decree the expression "the Officer" is used such expression shall be taken to mean any Officer so appointed.

27. The First Minister may from time to time make, amend and repeal Regulations for the better carrying out of this Decree.

28. Any person who shall by false declaration obtain or seek to obtain, either for himself or for another person not being entitled thereto, any certificate or document intended to secure the entry into the said Islands of any person in violation of the provisions of this Decree, and any person who may fraudulently use any such certificate or other document, shall be guilty of a contravention of this Decree.

29. The following shall be contraventions of this Decree :—

(a) Assisting any prohibited immigrant to enter the said Islands or knowingly being party to the introduction of any person of class (e) of Section 3 of this Decree.

(b) Aiding or abetting a prohibited immigrant or any other person in any contravention of this Decree or of the Regulations.

(c) Resisting or obstructing actively or passively any Officer in the execution of his duty.

(d) Wilfully disobeying or disregarding any obligation imposed by, or any lawful order made under, this Decree or the Regulations.

30. Every person guilty of a contravention of this Decree or of any regulation passed thereunder shall, where no penalty is expressly imposed, be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand Rupees, or, in default of payment thereof, imprisonment with or without hard labour for a period not exceeding six months, or he may be sentenced to such imprisonment as aforesaid without the option of a fine.

31. Any penalty incurred by the master of a ship shall be paid before the ship's clearance is granted. Notice in writing by the Officer to the Collector of the Customs of any claim against the Master, owners or agents of a ship for a penalty shall be a sufficient authority to him to refuse the ship's clearance until such order is withdrawn or is set aside by the order or judgment of a Court. Such a notice to the Port Captain or Harbour Master shall be authority to him to refuse to take a ship or allow it to go outside the port to any outer harbour or anchorage. When such notice is given the Officer shall with all speed inform the First Minister and take all such steps as may be necessary in order that proceedings in respect of the contravention may be instituted without loss of time.

32. The enforcement of any money penalty may be either by criminal prosecution or by civil action at the instance of the Officer. Any Court having jurisdiction to try a contravention of this Decree or of the Regulations may impose a penalty of one thousand Rupees or imprisonment with or without hard labour. Such imprisonment may in any criminal prosecution be awarded either absolutely or in default of the payment of the penalty.

33. This Decree shall come into force on the 1st January 1906.

This shoal was originally reported by the Master of the British ship Minerva, who stated that his vessel struck on it at 2 A.M. on the 10th September 1834. Durour island—Amended position.

No. 46 (third publication).—With reference to notice to Notice to Mariners No. 461, dated 25th November 1905, issued by this Office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 1384 of 1905) that the position of Durour island, north-east coast of New Guinea, has been fixed by the officers of H.I.M.S. Mowe.

The latitude of the eastern point of the island was determined by meridian altitude, taken on shore, to be 1° 27′ 30″ S. Owing to cloudy weather the longitude of this point could not be obtained by astronomical observations, but was determined on the passage to Maty island, by means of bearings taken when both islands were in sight, to be in about longitude 143° 6′ 20″ E.

The position of this island on the Chart has been amended accordingly.

CHINA SEA—GASPAR STRAIT.

Pare Joie reef—Reported position.

No. 47 (third publication).—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 323, dated 26th August 1905, issued by this Office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 1385 of 1905) that a repeated and careful search has been made for the Pare Joie reef in the position reported by the American S. S. Mississipi in May 1905, without any trace of its existence being found.

It is consequently considered that the Mississipi must have been deceived by the appearance of the water, but as a reef does doubtless exist in this vicinity, on which the ship Pare Joie remained aground for 24 hours, it is probable that the position given by that vessel is the most reliable.

Pare Joie reef has, therefore, been transferred on the Chart from the position given by the Mississipi to the situation originally assigned to it by the Pare Joie, viz., to a position from which Gaspar island summit bears S. ¼ E., distant 5¼ miles. It has been marked P. D.

Approximate position, lat. 2° 19½′ S., long. 107° 4¼ E.

Buoy will probably need to be moved slightly as the work of deepening the Outer Harbour progresses, it must be taken only as indicating the edge of the shoal, and vessels navigating that part of the channel should not approach it within 50 ft.

NOTE.—This affects Admiralty Chart 2389B, 1750, and 1752.

AUSTRALIA, SOUTH—GULF ST. VINCENT.

Port Adelaide river—Semaphore Signal Station.

No. 50 (third publication)—The President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 33 of 1905) that, on and after the 1st January next, the method of signalling from the Semaphore Station the depth of water in the Port Adelaide River will be altered. FIRST FORECAST OF THE WHEAT CROP OF BENGAL, 1905-1906.

THE following note is published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 13th February 1906.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Wheat crop of Bengal, 1905-1906.

[On an average of five years ending 1903-04, the area under wheat in the territory to which this Forecast relates has represented some 6·2 per cent of the total area under wheat in British India.
The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage (a) in British India and (b) in the territory now reported on, has in the five years ending 1903-04, averaged (a) 41·5 per cent and (b) 2·2 per cent, respectively.]

Explanatory.—The present Forecast relates to the Province of Bengal as now constituted. That is, it excludes the 14 districts recently transferred to the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam while it includes Sambalpur which has been transferred to this Province from the Central Provinces. Neither Sambalpur, however, nor most of the districts made over to the new Province grow much wheat. As a matter of fact, the crop is grown chiefly in Bihar. Outside Bihar the only important wheat-growing districts are Murshidabad and Nadia. There is practically no wheat in Orissa.

2. Character of the season.—The season on the whole has been favourable. In certain districts, however, the crop suffered from the failure of the hathiya rains in October, but in the week just closed rain was fairly general in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions with scattered showers in Bihar. In the important wheat-growing district of Bhagalpur there was a severe hail storm on the 22nd but the extent of the damage has not yet been reported.

3. Area sown.—The total normal area under wheat in the Province now stands at 1,350,400 acres. The actual area sown this year is 1,256,000 acres against 1,324,800 acres of last year. The sowing took place on the whole at the normal time.

Outturn.—From the Appendix it will appear that a normal outturn is expected in three of the minor districts only (Purnea, Cuttack and Balasore); five districts return between 90 and 99 per cent; nine districts between 80 and 89 per cent.; four between 70 and 79; while six districts return below 70 per cent. According to the estimate of the District Officers, the outturn for the whole Province works out to 83 per cent. of a normal crop.

Officer on special duty in connection with the Dept. of Agriculture, Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; p, passing showers; ⌓, dew.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

GROWTH OF COTTON IN BENGAL.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE asked:—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if any steps have been taken by it since the creation of the Department of Agriculture, to stimulate the growth of cotton in the several districts of this Province? If so, what they are?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state as far as possible, what experiments have been made by it and what results have been obtained, as regards the production of cotton in the several districts of this Province?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"The Bengal Department of Agriculture was created in 1885. It is only since 1903 that the Department has taken steps to stimulate the growth of cotton.

"Attempts are being made (1) to improve the outturn and quality of local varieties of cotton by selection of seed in the important cotton-growing districts, and (2) to introduce superior varieties of cotton from Egypt and America, and from other Provinces in India.

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to Question No. II of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar asked at the Council Meeting of the 2nd December, 1905, for further details.

"Besides these steps, the Department has tried the following experiments at the farms under its charge; (1) comparison of the outturn of a few select varieties, and (2) production of superior hybrids of cross fertilisation. The past two or three years have been unfavourable for cotton cultivation in this Province, and the experiments have not given results that can be safely regarded as definite. It is intended to continue the experiments."

OPERATION OF THE LAND REVENUE SALE LAW.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state:—

(a) Whether the 19 cases of hardship mentioned in the recent Government Resolution on the Administration of the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, for 1904-05, regarding the operation of the Land Revenue Sale Law, comprise only those cases in which the Hon'ble Members of the Board agreed with the Divisional Commissioners in their recommendations for annulment of sales on the ground of hardship?

(b) Whether there were any cases during the period 1904-05 in which such recommendations of the Divisional Commissioners on the ground of hardship were not acted upon by the Board of Revenue; if so, the number of such cases?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"(a) The 19 cases mentioned in the Government Resolution on the Land Revenue Administration Report for the year 1904-1905 comprise only those cases in which the Board of Revenue agreed with the Divisional Commissioners in recommending the annulment of sales on the ground of hardship.

(b) There were only two cases during the year 1904-1905 in which the Board did not support the recommendations of Divisional Commissioners."

THE CALCUTTA AND SUBURBAN POLICE SUPERANNUATION FUND.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state what was the outstanding balance of the Calcutta and Suburban Police Superannuation Fund, which has become vested in Government under the operation of the Calcutta and Suburban Police (Superannuation Fund) Act, 1905?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"The balance of the Calcutta and Suburban Police Superannuation Fund which has become vested in Government is Rs. 3,48,540-8-7."

REDUCTION OF ESTABLISHMENTS IN CERTAIN OFFICES IN BENGAL

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the reduction effected under the partition of Bengal in the establishments of the following offices, viz.:—the Bengal Secretariat, the Board of Revenue, the Public Works Department and in the offices of the Inspector-General of Police, the Commissioner of Excise, the Accountant-General, the Postmaster-General, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, the Inspector-General of Registration, the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, the Director of Public Instruction and the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"The question of the reduction to be effected in the offices named in the question is still under discussion with the Government of India."

THE BENGAL SMOKE-NUISANCES ACT.

The Hon'ble MR. LARMOUR asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state when it is proposed to bring into operation the Bengal Smoke-Nuisances Act passed by this Council last year?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"A Commission has been appointed under the terms of section 4 of the Act, and the members have been notified in the Calcutta Gazette of the 24th January. On the same date Mr. Nicholson, who has had large experience of similar work in England and who had arrived two days before in Calcutta was appointed Chief Inspector. It was not considered advisable to appoint the Commission until Mr. Nicholson arrived. He has been diligently studying local conditions since his arrival; and the Commission with his assistance will now frame rules under section 10 of the Act. As soon as these rules have been approved by the Governor General in Council, they will be notified; and the Act will then be operative."

REDUCTION OF FEES UNDER THE PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is or it is not a fact that considerable surpluses are annually left in almost every district out of the process fees realized for the service of notices and execution of certificates under the Public Demands Recovery Act? If so, will the Government be pleased to consider whether it is not feasible to make a reduction in the rate or rates at which such fees are levied at present?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

In the great majority of certificate cases the process fee is the only charge made for all the work done in the Certificate and Nizarat and other departments in connection with the recovery of claims. Government is not prepared to say what surplus may fairly be held to accrue when all the charges which can legitimately be debited to this head are set off, and these charges are likely to be modified as a result of the inquiries which are now being made by the Commission appointed to inquire into ministerial salaries. In the opinion of Government the present charges are moderate, and do not call for reduction. At the same time, the possibility and propriety of reducing the fees are matters which will receive attention after receipt of the Commission's report.

THE BENGAL DISORDERLY HOUSES BILL, 1905.

The Hon'ble MR. GORDON presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the discontinuance of brothels and disorderly houses in certain localities in Bengal. He said:—

"The Bill has been amended in certain important particulars and the amendments are all shown in italics. Some of these amendments affected questions of principle specially those referred to in paragraph 7 of the Report. This therefore required the sanction of the Government of India. The amendments have been forwarded to that Government and until the orders of the Government of India have been received the proceedings in this Council will remain pending.

THE BENGAL LAND REGISTRATION (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1905.

The Hon'ble MR. HARE presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Land Registration Act, 1876. He said:—

"The amendments which have been proposed are very slight, and they are referred to in the Report of the Select Committee. I do not think therefore there is any occasion for me to make any remarks at present.

THE BENGAL COURT OF WARDS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1905.

The Hon'ble MR. HARE presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Court of Wards Act, 1879. He said:—

"I do not propose to ask your Honour for leave that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Court of Wards Act, 1879, be taken into consideration, nor do I propose to ask for permission that the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee. The reason is that certain amendments which have not been before the Select Committee for their consideration have been put in rather late, and Government have not had sufficient time to consider them in their consequences fully. We think therefore that it would be better to adjourn that part of the Business to the next meeting of Council. I beg, therefore, to move that the Motion which stands in my name, namely, that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Court of Wards Act, 1879, be taken into consideration, be postponed to the next meeting of Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 3rd March, 1906.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

REPORT ON THE COTTON CROPS OF BENGAL, FEBRUARY, 1906.

[On an average of the five years ending 1903-1904 the area under cotton crops in the territory to which this forecast relates has represented some 1·08 per cent. of the total area under cotton crops in British India.]

Explanatory.—Four forecasts of cotton are to be issued by this Department at equal intervals of two months, viz., before the 15th of August, October, December and February, the first two dealing with estimates of area sown and the general condition of the crop, and the other two with revised estimates of area sown, together with an estimate of the probable outturn.

Since the issue of the October forecast, the important cotton district of the Chittagong Hill Tracts has been transferred to the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam, and Sambalpur has been added to this Province.

Character of the season.—Early cotton is grown in the Sonthal Parganas, Sambalpur, Manbhum, Singhbhum and Angul. Weather conditions were generally favourable in the early part of the season, but there was some damage in the Sonthal Parganas and Manbhum by excessive rain in September.

In respect of late cotton, the most important districts are Saran, Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga. This crop is sown partly at the beginning, and partly at the end of the rains. In the districts where it is sown at the beginning of the monsoon, excessive rain and floods caused damage to the crop.

Area sown.—The area sown with early cotton this year was 36,504 acres, and that sown with late cotton, 36,356 acres.

Outturn.—According to the revised returns the outturn of early cotton is estimated at 5,680 bales while the outturn of late cotton is estimated as 11,221 bales (one bale=400lbs.) Adding 5 per cent. to the above figures for cotton grown in the Native States, for which statistics are not available, the total estimates for early and late cotton come, respectively, to 5,964 and 11,782 bales.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JANUARY, 1906.

THE first month of the New Year was, like its predecessors of the present cold weather, of a very ordinary type. The most remarkable feature of the month was its considerable coolness, due during the first twenty days of the month to a strong monsoon bringing down cold air from the north, and during the last ten days to excessive precipitation and heavy clouds which, while preventing the nights cooling down as much as they otherwise would, even more acted as a protection from the sun's rays during the day.

The light rain which prevailed in the south of Bengal during the last few days of December ended with the year 1905, and New Year's day 1906 was bright and dry with the barometer at its proper height and a north-east to south-west pressure gradient only a shade steeper than is usual for New Year's day in Bengal and the Bay of Bengal, and temperature a trifle cooler than normal. This perfectly typical descent of cool air from the Himalayas and over Central India was maintained with only slightly increasing force on the 3rd, 4th and 5th, with diminishing force on the 6th and 7th, and disappearing altogether on the 8th and 9th. The variation of temperature from the normal synchronised closely with these changes in the pressure distribution, the maximum deficiency (viz., 6° in South-West Bengal) falling on the 6th. From the 10th to the 17th the centre of the anti-cyclonic air movement was shifted westwards over Central India, so that the winds, though of less force, were enabled to preserve a rather more than ordinary coolness in virtue of their more northerly direction. On the 18th, 19th, and 20th the pressure gradient flattened out and the monsoon diminished to its ordinary strength and temperature gradually rose to the normal for the season. On the 21st a shallow depression appeared over the south of the United Provinces and gave very general and heavy rain over Bihar, North Bengal, South-West Bengal, Chota Nagpur and Orissa; and extending into the parts of Bengal and Assam on the next two days, while the wind going round to the south and south-west, sent the mean temperature up to just above normal, and the heavy overclouding of the sky kept the night temperature as much as 10° or 11° above the normal minimum. On the 23rd normal barometric conditions were established over the Bay, and on the 24th the monsoon pressure gradient was even a little stronger than usual; but before the temperature had time to fall more than about 1° below normal a very shallow depression appeared over Central India on the 25th, and by giving the winds at the head of the Bay a southerly component caused the temperature to rise again to 4° or 5° above normal, while giving a pretty general precipitation in Chota Nagpur and more scattered showers in the adjoining western parts of Bengal on the 26th, 27th and 28th. On the 28th the mean temperature was as much as °8 above normal. On the 29th and 30th the pressure gradient was steep from north-west to south-east, but its component at right angles was practically zero or contrary in sign to that proper to a north-east monsoon. On the 30th and 31st there occurred one of those mysterious see-saw movements of the barometer, which on the former day fell through one-fifth of an inch along the base of the Himalayas and on the second day more than recovered its former height. The only other noticeable phenomenon associated with this oscillation of the barometer was a sudden fall of temperature which is no doubt sufficiently explained by the rapid evaporation of the clouds owing to the sudden compression, and the simultaneous shifting round of the direction of the winds.

Summary of Pressure.—All these barometric oscillations were so symmetrically above and below the mean that the integregated average pressure for the month scarcely varies at all from the normal, though it was on the whole just a trace above normal over the Province and a little below over the Bay, indicating a slightly stronger than ordinary north-east monsoon during the month.

From the following table it will be seen that the vertical pressure anomaly between Darjeeling and Calcutta which, after oscillating backwards and forwards during last year's rains, had disappeared in October and become markedly negative during the first two months of the present cold weather, has become slightly positive during January, thereby indicating that the large rainfall of the month was not connected with an excessive amount of moisture in the upper atmospheric strata:—

Summary of Temperature.—The month of January 1906 was a little cooler than January has usually been in former years all over Bengal, Bihar, Chota Nagpur, and the northern half of Orissa, while its southern half was just a little warmer than usual. The highest temperature recorded was 89°·4 at Cuttack and the lowest in the Plains 40°·1 at Motihari. At Calcutta the extreme limits of temperature were 81°·9 and 44°·4.

Summary of Rainfall.—The total rainfall for the month was in large excess above the normal average (of 100 to 270 per cent.) in every division of the Province, except in Bihar, where it was 19 per cent. less than the normal average.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature of each of the seven Meteorological Divisions of the Provinces of Bengal and of Eastern Bengal and Assam, and rainfall data of each of the four meteorolgical divisions of the Province of Bengal for the month of January 1906:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

RULES FOR GRANTS-IN-AID TO SCHOOLS IN BENGAL FOR INDIAN PUPILS (SANCTIONED IN BENGAL GOVERNMENT ORDER No. 1413 T.—G., DATED THE $\frac{\text{20TH JULY}}{\text{2ND AUGUST}}$ 1905).

1. An allotment from Provincial revenues is assigned annually by Government to be expended in grants-in-aid to schools not under Government management, provided they fulfil the conditions prescribed in the following rules and are conducted in accordance with the general rules laid down by the Department.

2. The allotment is distributed by the Director of Public Instruction, on the recommendation of the Divisional Inspectors, to schools which are certified to be eligible under these rules, reference being had to the requirements of each locality, as compared with others, and to the funds available. In determining the amount of the grants, special consideration shall be shown to schools which have a highly-qualified and well-paid staff and which levy fees at comparatively high rates.

Ordinary grants are given in aid of ordinary recurring expenditure.

Special grants are given in aid of non-recurring expenditure of a special character.

Temporary grants are given in certain cases in aid of boarding-houses and hostels in accordance with the principle that such establishments should generally be made self-supporting in so far as recurring expenditure is concerned.

3. Any school to which a grant-in-aid is given, together with all its accounts, books and other records, shall at all times be open to inspection and examination by any officer appointed by the Government for the purpose, and to this end the records and accounts shall be placed in such custody that they shall be always accessible on the visit of any inspecting officer. Such inspection and examination shall have no reference to religious instruction, but only to secular education.

NOTE.—The following books shall be kept by all aided schools:—

(a) An admission register.

(b) Attendance registers for teachers and scholars, together with a summary of such attendance, and a book for keeping copies of "D" forms for preserving the monthly abstract of attendance.

(c) A register showing whether boys attending the school live with parents or recognised guardians or in hostels or messes, and, if in the last, whether such institutions are under proper supervision.

(d) A cash-book and a book containing copies of "C" forms for preserving the monthly abstract account and also acquittance-rolls showing the payment of all teachers and all scholarship-holders.

(e) A visitors' book.

(f) A diary, stoutly bound and containing not less than 200 pages.

(g) A book in which all transfer certificates received, and all declarations of guardians on scholars first entering school are duly kept, and a guard-book in which details of all transfer certificates issued from the school and signed by the head-master are kept under the care of the head-master.

(h) A book containing the proceedings of the Managing Committee of the school, if any such Committee exists.

(i) Service-books of teachers, which shall be kept up to date.

(j) A catalogue of library books, and also a book in which the dates of issue and return of such books shall be entered.

(k) A correspondence book or file.

(l) A conduct register, in which all corporal punishment inflicted upon students shall be recorded.

(m) A book showing the results of class examinations and at departmental examinations, as also at the University Entrance or other similar examinations.

The head-master shall, from time to time, make entries in the diary, showing the visits of the Managers and Inspectors, the curricula and progress of the various classes, and other important facts concerning the school or its teachers and students, such as appointments, dates of joining, dismissal or resignation, or absences due to illness of teachers, instructions to staff, serious infringement of discipline, use of school buildings for purposes other than school, etc., which are likely to be required for future reference. Such communications from the Inspector of Schools as he may direct to be inserted in the diary must be copied verbatim therein. An entry shall be made at least once a month by the head-master showing the progress of the various classes in their different subjects of study, but no reflections or opinions of a general character are to be entered.

The only persons authorised to make entries in the diary are the head-master, the Inspector, and the Assistant Inspector of Schools in the case of high schools, while in the case of middle schools the Deputy Inspector may also make entries. The diary shall be kept in the custody of the head-master, but shall be open at all times to the inspection of the Managers as well as of inspecting officers. No entry once made may be erased or removed, nor may it be altered otherwise than by a subsequent entry.

At the commencement of each school session, the names of all teachers who are to form part of the school staff for the year, and the distribution of the work among them, shall be entered in the diary and signed by the head-master. Any subsequent change in the staff, or in the distribution of the work, should similarly be recorded.

4. Inspecting officers will interfere as little as possible with the local management of the school, but shall satisfy themselves that the instruction is efficient, and that the conditions on which the grants were made are fulfilled; and aid will be withdrawn from any school in which such conditions are not fulfilled.

5. Grants are given on the principle of strict religious neutrality, and no preference will be shown to any school on the ground that any particular religious doctrines are taught or not taught therein.

6. Grants will be made to such schools only (with the exception of training schools, girls' schools, night schools for adults, and schools for aborigines and low castes) as realise some fee, however small, from all their scholars. Exemption from this rule may be allowed in exceptional cases by the Director of Public Instruction

7. No grant shall be made to a high school unless provision is made for (a) instruction in drawing, drill, gymnastics, and, if required, in manual training also; (b) employment of graduates and trained teachers; (c) employment of teachers who have passed the oral examination in English for teaching all the subjects taught through the medium of English; (d) instruction in any subjects which may be required by the local conditions of the place in which the school is situated; and (e) spending a portion of the grant on purchase of educational and other appliances for practical teaching of various subjects; nor shall a grant be admissible unless the medium of instruction in classes below the fourth be in accordance with the requirements of the scheme for vernacular education sanctioned in Government Resolution No. 1, dated the 1st January 1901.

8. The managers of any school applying for a grant must appoint a Secretary to conduct their correspondence with the Department, and all their names must be stated.

9. The managers shall be responsible for the due expenditure of the school funds in accordance with the conditions of the grant.

10. In respect of any school for which application is made, full information must be supplied on the following points, on which the grant will depend, and must be given in the shape required in Form A appended to these rules :—

(b) The proposed monthly expenditure in detail.

(c) The average number of pupils under instruction.

(d) Class of children attending the school, together with their races and creeds.

(j) The amount of aid sought.

(k) The treasury at which the grant, if sanctioned, is to be payable.

(l) The existence of other schools of whatever class within a distance of four miles of the school applying for a grant. In the case of towns like Calcutta, the four-mile limit will not be observed, but in such cases information as to neighbouring schools must be fully given.

(m) The nature and size of the school-house and of the rooms contained in it, and also a description of the surroundings of the school. If possible, a rough map of the school and its immediate surroundings should be sent in, showing whether the school has a garden or play-ground and whether there are any arrangements for the residential accommodation of either masters or pupils.

(n) The nature of the provision which has been made for the sanitary arrangements of the pupils and teachers, and the sanitation of the school buildings and its compound.

11. An application for a grant shall be made either directly to the Divisional Inspector or to the District Deputy Inspector, who shall forward it, with his remarks, to the Inspector. The Inspector shall consult the District Magistrate, and, if they agree as to the rejection of the application, shall reject it; otherwise it shall be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction for sanction or orders as the case may be with the opinion of the District Magistrate and his recommendation.

12. Grants shall not exceed in amount the sums to be expended from private sources except in special cases, under special orders of Government. Municipal contributions will be reckoned for this purpose as receipts from public sources.

13. Aided schools are divided into the following classes :—

High Schools—In which the pupils are educated up to the standard of the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University or up to the standard of the "B" and "C" classes, or to similar standards.

Middle Schools—In which the pupils are educated up to the Middle Scholarship standard.

17. For primary schools, and for middle schools in which the expenditure does not exceed Rs. 40 a month, as well as for girls' schools, training schools and special schools, the grant shall not exceed a sum equal to the full amount of the income guaranteed.

18. The amounts laid down are maximum grants, but it must be understood that the maximum grant will not in all cases, and as a matter of course, be sanctioned.

19 No grant shall be made, or, if made, shall be continued, unless the buildings are well constructed and contain sufficient accommodation for the scholars in attendance. The rooms also must be properly furnished, lighted and ventilated, and the surrounding premises properly drained. (General directions on these points have been issued by the Department.)

20. Grants will be sanctioned ordinarily for a term of three years; but the Inspector may, at any time during its currency, recommend the revision of any grant. Notice of a proposed reduction, or suspension, if considerable, shall be given to the managers, who may, if considered necessary by the Inspector or Director, be allowed an opportunity of stating any objection that they may have.

21. When a grant is sanctioned the managers shall sign an agreement, on stamped paper, to the effect that they will conduct the school in accordance with the conditions of the grant.

22. The sanction of a grant shall be conveyed in the following form:—

Office Memorandum of the Director of Public Instruction.

(1). A grant of Rs. a month is sanctioned from the 190 , for the school at , in the district of , on the following conditions:—

(2) The grant shall be payable every month.

(3) The monthly bill (in Form B annexed) must be sent to the Inspector for countersignature, and must be accompanied by an account (in Form C) for the month preceding that for which the bill is drawn and by a certificate that all salaries for the previous month have been paid in full.

After countersignature the bill will be paid at the treasury.

[NOTE.—Where the sanctioned scale contains an item for prize or library, separate accounts should be kept and vouchers should be filed of the prize or library fund expenses.]

(4) The monthly bill and the certificate must be signed by the Secretary of the school.

(5) The bill shall be countersigned on the distinct understanding that the salaries and other charges, certified by the Secretary to have been paid, have actually been paid.

(6) Salaries for service in any month shall become due on the first day of the following month.

(7) The appointment and dismissal of every teacher shall be notified to the Department. No appointment shall be confirmed until it has received the sanction of the Department; and the Department shall have the power to enquire into any case of dismissal of a teacher.

(8) The grant shall be liable to be reduced or withdrawn if the payment of any teacher's salary is delayed for more than two months after it has become due.

(9) The grant shall be liable to be reduced or withdrawn if the school is unfavourably reported on as regards the attendance or proficiency or discipline of the scholars. With the monthly bills for grant-in-aid a statement of the attendance of pupils in all the classes for the previous month shall be submitted in Form D.

(10) The grant shall be liable to be reduced or withdrawn if the managers keep their accounts in a negligent or untrustworthy manner, or if they send up incorrect accounts, or if they fail to transmit punctually the periodical returns required by the Department, or if the Department is otherwise dissatisfied with the management.

(11) The grant shall be liable to be reduced or withdrawn, if the teachers are inefficient or if they are absent from duty otherwise than in accordance with the rules of the Department, or if they keep the school registers in a negligent or untrustworthy manner.

(12) Holidays shall not exceed 65 days in the year, exclusive of Sundays, except under peculiar circumstances and with the sanction of the Inspector.

(13) Free studentships shall not ordinarily exceed 5 per cent. of the total number of pupils on the rolls, exclusive of scholarship-holders. Managers of high schools may, with the sanction of the Inspector, admit an additional number (not exceeding 12) of Muhammadans as free students up to the limit of 8 per cent. of the total number of pupils on the rolls.

(14) The Department shall have power to define the subjects of instruction to be given, and to have a voice in settling the fee-rates, in controlling expenditure, in enforcing discipline, and in regulating attendance.

(15) The Department shall have power to direct the Managers to purchase such articles as furniture, teaching appliances, black-boards, maps, library books, etc.

(16) Every new election to the Committee of Management shall be notified to the Inspector under the signatures of the Secretary and of the member or members elected.

(17) Every change of Secretary shall be notified to the Inspector under the signatures of the new Secretary and the members of the Committee of Management.

(18) All receipts, from whatever sources or for whatever purposes collected, shall be entered in the account book of the school, which shall be open to inspection and examination by any officer appointed by Government for the purpose. All receipts collected by the headmaster should be remitted on the same date, as far as possible, to the Secretary with a challan to be signed by the Secretary after the receipt of the money.

(19) No part of the previous balance of the school shall be spent without the sanction of the Inspector, except for payment of the sanctioned establishment, in order to make up any deficit in the private contributions in any particular month.

(20) The surplus funds of the school shall be placed in the Postal Savings Bank at the end of each quarter, and the savings bank account should be made out in the joint names of the Secretary and one of the members of the Managing Committee, who will be selected for the purpose by the Committee.

(21) No new building shall be constructed for the school until the plan and estimates have been approved by the Inspector.

22. Government may claim a fair share of any balance at the credit of a school at the time of its abolition, as well as of the sale-proceeds of any school-house or furniture towards the erection, enlargement, repairs or purchase of which a grant may have been given by Government.

Special Grants.

23. Grants may be given to managers of schools in aid—

(a) of erecting, enlarging or furnishing school buildings;
(b) of attaching boarding establishments to high schools;
(c) of executing extensive repairs; and
(d) in special cases, of paying off debts incurred in erecting or enlarging school buildings.

NOTE.—(1) Expenditure in the purchase of buildings may be treated as expenditure in the erection of buildings.

(2) The sum to be allotted annually for building grants to schools shall be fixed provisionally for a term of years. It shall not, in ordinary circumstances, be reduced, though it may be increased for any year during that term.

(3) Every application for a grant shall be submitted to the Department not later than on the 31st December, if the grant is to be admissible for sanction during the following financial year. If found to be in accordance with the rules, and in other respects deserving of support, it will be included in the list of "approved applications." If not so included, the reasons shall be notified to the managers.

(4) The total sum allotted for the year will be divided between schools for different sections of the community (Europeans, Hindus, Muhammadans, Native Christians, etc.), in some proportion to the requirements of each community, as indicated by the amount of the "approved applications" received from each, regard being also paid to preferential claims as explained in note (5).

Grants not required by one section of the community may, towards the close of the year, be reappropriated to meet the wants of another section.

(5) In selecting "approved applications" for sanction, those projects that involve the education or boarding of an increased number of pupils shall ordinarily be preferred to those that merely seek to improve the accommodation of existing pupils.

(6) In the case of an application for a repair grant under rule (c), the managers will be required to show that the necessity for such a grant has not arisen from the neglect of current repairs in previous years.

24. Except in the case provided in the foregoing rule, no grant shall be made in consideration of previous expenditure on school buildings.

25. In general, the proportion of the Government contribution made under rule 23 shall not exceed the proportion laid down in rules 15 to 18 for a school of the same class.

NOTE.—The sum of Rs. 10,000 is fixed as ordinarily the maximum grant for any undertaking or project.

26. Before a building grant is sanctioned, the site, plans, estimates, specifications, title and draft trust-deeds must be approved by the Director of Public Instruction. If the school receives no monthly grant, the managers must also satisfy the Department that it is likely to be maintained in efficiency and that it will be open to inspection.

27. The trust-deed must declare the building to be granted in trust for school purposes only. It must also provide for the legal ownership of the premises, for the proper maintenance of the building, and for the inspection and management of the school.

NOTE.—(1) This rule does not preclude the managers from using the building for other purposes, subject, if necessary, to the sanction of the Department, when not required for the purposes of the school.

(2) When the grant does not exceed Rs. 1,000, the manager may execute a deed of acceptance in place of a trust-deed (vide Government order No. 584, dated the 13th November 1890).

28 No grant will be finally sanctioned until a certificate is received from the managers, setting forth that the funds in their hands will, when added to the grant, be sufficient to meet all claims and to close the account.

29. Advances may be made from time to time out of the sanctioned grant on receipt of a report from the Public Works Department that the work is proceeding satisfactorily.

30. No grant will be paid in full until—

(1) a report is received from the Public Works Department or other competent authority that the building is satisfactorily completed, and

(2) the trust-deed is duly registered and lodged with the Department.

NOTE.—"Title-deeds of property mortgaged to Government on account of building grants may, as hitherto, remain with the mortgagor" (vide Government order No. 44T.—G., dated the 16th June 1890).

The initials of the sarkars should always be obtained in the register against the entry for the book concerned at the time it is issued to him. * In addition to this area, 540,000 acres are efficiently protected by the flood banks of the Orissa Canals, the total length of which is 293 miles 4,678 feet.

† Inclusive of 1,717 feet of spur embankments Pasar river. The length in 1903-1904 was 1,764 feet.

There has been an addition of 5 miles 2,227 feet in the length of the class A embankments in Orissa, mainly due to the restoration to the schedule of certain embankments which had been temporarily removed from it. There has been no alteration in the other classes.

3. Floods. During the year the floods in most of the rivers in the Orissa Circle were fairly high. There was a moderately high flood of short duration in the Mahanadi river and its branches. A noticeable feature of the flood was that the gauges along the Bhargovi branch in the Puri district recorded the highest known readings. This was due partly to the closing of the Adlabad breach and also to the occurrence of comparatively few breaches in the marginal embankments. There were frequent small floods in the Brahmini river. A very high flood occurred in the Byturni on the 9th July 1904. The highest flood of the year in the Subarnarekha was only 1·90 below the record, while the Haldi rose to within 3·23 feet of the maximum for that river. In the Gandak Circle the floods were of an ordinary nature. The Gandak river rose on 24th June to 239·40 at Siswa against 242·40, the highest recorded flood level. The flood in the Ganges as recorded in connection with the Bazitpur embankment was 3·05 higher than that of the previous year, and 3·09 lower than the flood recorded in 1879.

There were heavy floods in most of the rivers in the South-Western Circle and the embankments were damaged to a certain extent. The highest flood of the year in the Cossye and Selye rivers occurred on the 8th and 9th July. It was of moderate height. The flood in the Hooghly river was unusually high. The gauge at Uluberia read 15·80 on 13th August, against a previous maximum of 15·50. The canal terminus was slightly affected and had to be strengthened by stone pitching. There were altogether five floods in the Damodar river between July and September 1904, of which the highest was on the 8th July, when the water at the Edilpur gauge was only 9 inches lower than during the very high flood of 1902. Three floods occurred in the Ajai river, of which the highest was on the 23rd July 1904, being 7 feet 3 inches lower than the highest recorded level of 20 feet 9 inches in 1899. The river protective works were slightly damaged. The Bhagirathi river was also in high flood. On the 26th August the Berhampur gauge stood at 63·75, being 0·98 below the maximum flood level of 1890. The floods in the rivers in the Malda, Purnea, Bogra, Pabna and Bhagalpur districts were of ordinary character and caused no injury to the embankments.

4. Surveys and investigations.—In the Orissa Circle an investigation was made in the Puri district, with respect to the utility of the existing sluices in the embankments and to ascertain where additional sluices might with advantage be provided. In the South-Western Circle surveys for retired lines at Magra and Raipur and a survey of the right bank of the Hooghly from Uluberia to Alipore were completed during the year. Surveys of the creek and some of the main channels in connection with the Magra Hât drainage scheme were completed. Surveys were also made of the village sites in the country which is now exposed to flood in consequence of the alterations in the line of embankments at Laltakuri in the Murshidabad district. In the Gandak Circle surveys in connection with three retired lines proposed for the Saran embankment were carried out.

5. Original works.—The outlay of the year (without charges for establishment) under this head amounts to Rs. 38,338 distributed over the different classes of embankments as under :—

			1904-1905.	1903-1904.
			Rs.	Rs.
Class A	...	...	20,560	17,649
„ B	...	...	16,674	25,810
„ C	...	...	Nil	Nil
„ D	...	...	1,104	Nil
	Total	...	38,338	43,459

The more important works are briefly noted.

In the Orissa Circle a paved escape on the left bank of the Bhargovi river was completed and two similar escapes on the Kushbhadra river were commenced. A short length of new embankment on the left bank of the Byturni at Anandpur was completed.

In the South-Western Circle Rs. 3,913 were expended on the remodelling of the Mohanpur-Kharagpur road to serve as a flood bank of the Cossye river near Midnapore. This work was completed during the year at a total cost of Rs. 48,405. Half the cost has been debited to the Bengal-Nagpur Railway. The Inspection bungalow at Edilpur on the Damodar was enlarged at a cost of Rs. 1,631.

A sum of Rs. 8,076 was also expended in the Nadia Rivers Division principally on works in connection with the Kalukhali sluice and the Bhagwangola retired line, the outlay on the latter being Rs. 4,670.

In the Gandak Circle the construction of the drainage sluice in the 6th mile of the Bazitpur embankment was nearly completed. A new sluice was built in the 37th mile of the Tirhut embankment at cost of Rs. 1,104 paid by the parties benefited by the work.

6. Ordinary repairs.—The expenditure on repairs (without book charges for establishment and tools and plant) aggregated Rs. 3,96,147, which is distributed under the different classes of embankments as follows :—

	1904-1905.	1903-1904.
	Rs.	Rs.
Class A	26,689	35,437
„ B	2,36,572	2,37,231
„ C	1 27,828	65,106
„ D	5,058	6,057
Total ...	3,96,147	3,43,831

The expenditure during the year on repairs to the Orissa embankments was the smallest of the quinquennial period ending March 1905. The total cost of repairs to those of the schedule D embankments (class B) in the Midnapore district which are in the Orissa Circle was Rs. 36,916, of which Rs. 31,770 were expended on repair and river protective works; Rs. 5,146 on construction of retired lines, and Rs. 3,569 in protecting the Doro embankment near Luff Point from the erosion of the Hooghly river.

In the South-Western Circle the expenditure on ordinary repairs to schedule D and other embankments was Rs. 1,02,629 against Rs. 1,27,382 in the previous year. In the Burdwan and 24-Parganas districts there was a reduction in expenditure of Rs. 31,565, while in the Hooghly, Midnapore and Murshidabad districts the charge for maintenance was Rs. 7,213 in excess of the preceding year.

The heavy expenditure in the Hooghly district was due to special repairs and extension of the rubble stone revetments on the left bank of the Rupnarain river. The excess in the Midnapore district was mainly due to the charges for similar work carried out on the Rupnarain right bank The somewhat heavy expenditure in the Murshidabad district was due to extensive repairs to the Bhagirathi embankment.

On (class C) takavi embankments under contract in the Midnapore, Muzaffarpur, Saran and Champaran districts a sum of Rs. 1,27,828 was expended during the year, as compared with the contract provision of Rs. 1,05,070. The outlay incurred on the maintenance of the Gandak embankments was Rs. 67,525, against Rs. 37,769 in the preceding year. Of this amount Rs. 43,317 were spent on special work done in raising the embankments. The expenditure on repairs to the Midnapore embankments was Rs. 60,303, against Rs. 27,295 in the previous year. The large outlay was partly due to the construction of retired lines and partly to special repairs to make good damage from flood.

On (class D) takavi embankments the total outlay incurred on repairs was Rs. 5,058, against Rs. 6,057 in the previous year.

7. Breaches.—In the Orissa Circle a large breach occurred in the 9th mile of the Kushbhadra river right bank, while three breaches occurred in the Bhargovi embankment. No damage was, however, done to the crops. On the contrary the inundation is reported to have been on the whole beneficial, as the local rainfall was short at the time. There were also four breaches in the Jamkunda embankment and one in the Darboree embankment. These were speedily closed and the crops were not damaged. The expenditure during the year for filling breaches was Rs. 3,037, against Rs. 2,227 in the previous year. In the South-Western Circle the total expenditure incurred in closing breaches and in making good damage caused by flood was Rs. 32,693, against Rs. 1,209 in the previous year. The small outlay during the year 1903-1904 was due to the absence of high floods in the Hooghly, Midnapore and 24-Parganas districts. During the year under review the expenditure in these districts amounted to Rs. 18,129. In the Burdwan district a sum of Rs. 14,198 was expended, against Rs. 1,424 in the previous year. There were no breaches in the embankments in the Gandak, Northern and Bhagalpur Circles.

8. Retired lines.—In the Orissa Circle the amount expended in constructing retired lines of embankments, including in this head slope cutting, which is an alternative measure, was Rs. 5,064, against Rs. 11,699 in the previous year. In the South-Western Circle the cost of constructing retired lines in the Burdwan, Hooghly, Midnapore, Murshidabad and the 24-Parganas districts was Rs. 63,165, against Rs. 66,120 in the previous year. In the Gandak Circle three retired lines were constructed in the Saran embankment and one in the 30th mile of the Tirhut embankment. No retired lines were constructed in the Northern and Bhagalpur Circles.

9. River Protective works.—In the Orissa Circle the total outlay incurred on repairs to the revetment and river protective works was Rs. 675, against Rs. 1,305 in the preceding year. In the Gandak Circle the existing spurs at 27th and 44th miles of the Saran embankment were repaired and nine new spurs were constructed at the former and three at the latter place. The old spurs in the Tirhut embankment were also repaired. Protective works were carried out opposite 58th mile on the Champaran embankment to prevent erosion.

10. Financial.—The actual outlay during the year on the Orissa embankments (class A) maintained as agricultural works exclusive of charges for establishment and tools and plant was Rs. 26,689, against Rs. 35,437 in the previous year, the average rate per mile being Rs. 52. The expenditure on class B Government embankments was Rs. 2,36,572, against Rs. 2,37,231 in the previous year, the average rate being Rs 217, against Rs. 218 in 1903-1904.

11. Works undertaken under the provisions of the Drainage Act VI (B.C.) of 1880.—The Dankuni, Howrah, Rajapore and Burajalla drainage works in the Hooghly district in charge of the Executive Engineer, Northern Drainage and Embankment Division were maintained in good order during the year. The cost of their maintenance compared with the previous year is shown below:—

tolls on boats and other sources was credited to the Civil Department direct, only petty miscellaneous receipts amounting to Rs. 419 were realized by this Department.

12. Works undertaken under the provisions of the Sanitary Drainage Act VIII (B.C.) of 1895.—The only work taken up under the Sanitary Drainage Act is the Magra Hât drainage scheme in the 24-Parganas district. It is designed to drain the swamps around Magra Hât and in the central portion of the tracts enclosed by the 24-Parganas embankments. The swamps are mainly those along the Kaorapokhar khal near Hotar, those connected with the Surjipur sluice, those at Joynagar and along the Srichandra and Sangrampur khals, as well as north of the railway near Sangrampur and at Dhosa and Habka. The rough estimates amounting to Rs. 17,39,000 have been approved by the Municipal Department of this Government. The Government contribution for the scheme is Rs. 5,00,000, and the balance will be advanced by Government as a loan to the District Board and recovered from the persons whose lands will be benefited. The allotment for the year 1904-1905 was Rs. 1,25,000, and a sum of Rs. 93,133 was expended on the following works:—

	Rs.
Re-excavation of Surjipur khal, including cross dam at the mouth of the khal	10,474
Excavating the diversion channel for the main sluice at Diamond Harbour and excavation for the sluice and value of bricks supplied	80,703
Work establishment, survey and contingencies	1,956
Total ...	93,133

The excavation of the Surjipur khal made it posible to drain out most of the water from the swamps round Surjipur and Magra Hât after the rains into the Peali river. In the diversion channel at Diamond Harbour, about 30 lakhs of earthwork were completed, and excavation for the main sluice started. The manufacture of bricks for Diamond Harbour and Peali sluices was commenced and surveys of the creek and some other main channels were completed.

The cost of maintenance amounted to Rs. 1,219, including cost of repairs to inspection bungalows. The outer bund of the Surpai sluice channel was cut for drainage purposes at a cost of Rs. 793; and for silt clearance of the khas tahsil khals in charge of this Department Rs 11,934 were expended during the year. Ten khas tahsil khals hitherto maintained by the Contai Khas Tahsil Department for drainage purposes were cleared from silt by this Department with funds provided from the khas mahal management grant. (a) The difference of Rs. 4 in column 2 as compared with the last year's return is due to the increase of Rs. 4 in the embankment cess demand during the year owing to the increase in the land revenue jama of certain estates by re-settlement.
(b) The difference of Rs. 3 in column 3 is due to the correction made in assessment of one estate.
(c) The decrease of Rs. 2 is due to the transfer from advance payment to the arrear demand.
(d) The difference of Rs. 11 is due to the fact that the balance at the close of the year 1903-1904 actually amounted to Rs. 5,516-10, which according to rule was shown Rs. 5,516. Out of this amount a sum of Rs. 10-2-3 was adjusted during the year under review from the excess payment of the previous year of the partition of an estate.
(e) This balance has been arrived at by deducting Rs. 744, due from Government on account of khas mahals benefited by the embankment.

[On an average of the five years ending 1903-04 the areas under linseed, rape and mustard and til in the territory to which this forecast relates have represented some 29·7, 22·4 and 6·2 per cent., respectively of the total area under these crops in British India.]

Explanatory.—The forecast furnishes preliminary estimates of area and outturn of different kinds of oilseeds, both bhadoi and rabi, grown in Bengal as now constituted, i.e., including Sambalpur and excluding the 14 districts recently transferred to the new Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

The chief oilseed crops are mustard (white and brown), rape, sesamum or til, linseed, castor, Niger oilseed (Sirguja) and eruca sativa (taramani). Mustard and rape occupy about 34 per cent. of the total area under oilseeds and linseed occupies about 33 per cent. The bulk of the mustard and rape is cultivated in the district of Purnea and the Sonthal Parganas. Linseed, which does better in the harder old alluvium, flourishes best in Darbhanga, Saran, Champaran and Gaya. Til or ginjelly is grown chiefly in Midnapore, Jessore, Angul, Sambalpur and Hazaribagh.

2. Character of the season.—Complaint has been general of want of moisture at the sowing time, and of rain holding off at the period of early growth of the crop. In October the rainfall was light and in November there was hardly any rainfall. Towards the end of December and in January rainfall was general, and it has improved the prospects. Injury done by insect-pest is reported only from Gaya. On the whole, the prospects which seemed somewhat gloomy early in the season, are favourable.

3. Area sown.—The total normal area under different kinds of oilseeds is estimated as 2,363,600 acres. The actual area sown this year is 2,165,900 acres against 2,243,600 acres sown last year; the sowings were made at the usual time but the area sown was less owing to the unfavourable character of the season.

4. Outturn.—From the appendix it will be seen that only one district, viz., Balasore, has reported a normal crop, eight districts 90 to 99 per cent., seven other districts 80 to 89 per cent., nine districts 70 to 79 per cent., five 60 to 69 per cent., and the remaining three districts 50 per cent. and less. The district estimates work up to a total outturn of 80 per cent. of a normal crop, but owing to the improvement that has taken place since the middle of December, I am inclined to raise the estimate to 85 per cent.

General Summary.—Rain was general throughout the Province. The fall was rather heavy in most of the districts of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions and also in parts of Monghyr, the Santhal Parganas and Manbhum. The rainfall is reported to have caused some damage to poppy and other rabi crops, especially the pulses and oilseeds. Cattle-disease is reported from eight districts. Fodder is still insufficient in parts of Darbhanga. Water-supply is plentiful. The price of common rice has risen in eight and is stationary in the remaining districts. It continues still high in the districts of Hooghly, Howrah, Nadia, Jessore, Khulna, Monghyr and Purneah.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; p, passing temporary showers; d, drizzling rain; ⌓, dew.
